If There is Any One Thing

More than another which will disgust a man, it is to see his trousers begin to "bag" at the knees. Every man knows to see this, but to a fastidious man the sight is almost unbearable. Better have a crumpled shirt or a shiny coat than "baggy" trousers. A pious observer once remarked that if men would only spend one-half the time in saying their prayers that they spent in trying to take the "kink" out of their trouser legs, heaven would be full of males.

All this time spent in fretting and fuming can be avoided.

How?

Every night when you remove your trousers spread them out flat from front to rear, making the front fold turn on the first suspender button, and bringing the front and rear creases in each leg together in such a way that the inner seams in the leg will lie one over the other. Then, having done this, make another fold just at the knee, and throw both legs back so that the bottom of the legs almost touch the waistband just below the buttons. Then lay the trousers away, and, if possible, place another pair upon them, or better still, a clean-surfaced board. Change as often as you can if you have several pairs, for trousers worn every day must get out of shape.

This is a sure cure for "bagging."

JAY GOULD'S GOOD IDEAS.

He Talks on the South, the Railways and Money.

THE QUESTION OF CONFIDENCE.

Expects Business of the Central West to Go to the South Atlantic.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 6.—The Gould-Inman party arrived at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Gould said in an interview: "The South is now developing rapidly, and I think will continue to do so. There is some western business coming this way. There is a good deal of grain coming South now. Kansas City may be fairly taken as the place from which to reckon comparative distances to the coast. My impression is that from that point to the coast by way of the Missouri Pacific and the terminal system and thence by water. New York is about the same as by the North-eastern route."

When asked if he thought the railroads of the country would eventually be under one management, Mr. Gould said: "No, it is too big an undertaking. Owners of some roads think they are worth more than others. Then the stock of dividend paying roads is scattered. People have different ideas, and it is hard to get them together."

In regard to railroad speculation he said: "In some states where the commissions have worked in unison with the roads, they have done great good to the roads and to the state. In other cases it has been the reverse." He did not think that government control of the telegraph would cheapen the service to the people.

In regard to the quantity and the proper form of currency, Mr. Gould said: "As to the sufficiency, we are now increasing at the rate of $5,000,000 a month by the operation of the silver bill. We are beginning to feel it and at the end of a few months will feel it much more. What created the stringency here was the fact that people got scared and did not know how far congress might go towards free coinage, and they hoarded their gold. Now that confidence is restored, money has come out and you will notice that money in New York is a drug. As to the proper form of money, treasury notes, based on gold and silver, is the best."

A Text for Donations.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—The Northwestern lumberman says the production of white pine lumber in 1890 was $6,654,041,715 feet, 275,782,255 feet more than in any previous year. The single output was 4,487,824,500, 2,000,000 less than in 1889. On hand at the mills were 3,726,976,433 days, and the output for the next season compared with a year ago. To produce white pine lumber and shingles manufactured in the forests of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota in the last eight years were required 12,356,712,510 feet of timber.

Proposed Wisconsin Laws.

Last Fishermen Rescued.

BAY CITY, Mich., Feb. 6.—Yesterday afternoon three men on the ice were seen below Oak Grove, two miles away, walking up and down the big ice trying to get ashore. They succeeded in doing so, and last night reached Essexville. They were last seen on the ice last night, and their companions have been tramping up and down the ice field ever since Tuesday morning.

He refused to make a statement beyond a general denial.

BERNHARDT'S GOWNS.

Creations of "Lafayette" which will be worn by "Samson" and "Pedro."

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Sara Bernhardt has a dazzling array of gowns in stock for her American tour. Most of them were made by Lafortiere, whom Sara has made famous. Her gowns for "Camille" are entirely new. One of these is an evening gown of tulle and satin covered with green tulle embroidered with snowballs and buttons d'or, which are yellow bachelors' buttons. The train of this gown is of the same figured satin, covered with snowballs and yellow bachelors' buttons and trimmed with a box of yellow plumet. This gown will form almost the entire waist. To this there will be a narrow heavy II. collar of the same crepe de chine lying upon the shoulders. Perhaps the most beautiful of the gowns is one she will wear in "Pedro." This is an evening gown, having a skirt of black silk completely covered with jet and black silk trimming. The train is of black silk, lined with sky-blue satin and trimmed with two rows of black silk ribbons. Ribbons of black satin, crossed very low, form the skirt. Upon one shoulder is a long cloak of sky-blue satin, lined with streamers, by which the fan will be held. In such a gown Sara will look a most fascinating widow. With it goes a long cloak of sky-blue satin, lined with a light cloak of white satin, lined throughout with ermine.

FLOODS AND FAMINE.

Periodic State of Devastation by Flood and Famine.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 6.—Intelligence from Shanghai gives the details of floods and famine in Northern China. The governor general of Li Hing Chang reports that the people of Schuan suffered terribly by a flood which destroyed temples, bridges and city walls. In the district of Yuen Chuan the loss of life will reach fully 1000. Immediately following the floods at Pei Chang the rice started to rot. Thirty-five houses. In three other places houses were burned to the number of 200. The suffering among the people is terrible. The roads everywhere are difficult of passage and crowds of starving wretches are on their way to Shanghai.

MIXED CONFERENCE.

Labor Organizations in Illinois Have Mixed Conference.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 6.—The farmers and laborers conference is in session here today. It is given out that the business to be considered is the proposed plan to purchase implements next spring and the consideration of a big deal on twice that has been offered to the conference. As nearly all the delegates have been in the city yesterday, they have held a secret conference on Wednesday, it is surmised that today's meeting may have a certain bearing on the consideration of the deal. As the conference last fall adopted resolutions instructing the farmers to cast their votes for a "political farmer" for United States senator.

MEXICAN TROUBLES.

Diaz's Hand Rests Lightly on the Rudder of the Ship of State.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 6.—An army officer who returned yesterday from a trip to Mexico says that President Diaz is arranging in secret for a journey to France, and is keeping the matter secret. Recent reports of trouble in his cabinet due to the fact he has been summoning to the capital the governors of the different states and giving them instructions. Just why he keeps his intentions so secret is a matter of speculation. Diaz has a light grip on the government, is unpopular and generally considered a tyrant, and it is said that he has been favored by the army. He is enormously rich.

LITERARY COMBINATION.

Not Content With Haggard, He Wants a Stronger Alliance.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 6.—Wm. H. Hoesa Ballou, the novelist, is making arrangements for his trip with Rider Haggard across the continent. The party will start in April. He has also received a communication from the head of one of the leading publishing houses in New York suggesting the plan for an extraordinary alliance of Haggard, Jules Verne, Madame Blavatsky and himself (Ballou) in a novel, and will shortly combine the combined forces of the party named on a plot which he has in mind.

Crescent City Mardi Gras.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 6.—The Mardi Gras opened here today with the usual festivities. The arrival of Rex, king of the carnival, is timed for Monday next, but the preliminary festivities commenced today with a grand tournament by the king's own royal guard, and the interest and splendor of the celebration is enhanced by the presence of a number of noted military companies from distant points. Among these are the Detroit light infantry of Detroit, Delaware Rifles of Salt Lake City, the Fifth Maryland regiment of Baltimore, the Flambeau club of Salt Lake City and others.

Springfield Church Scandal.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Feb. 6.—Rev. W. H. Simmons, a Methodist minister of this city, is accused of conduct unbecoming a gentleman. The trouble is based on the allegation that he called on a pretty married woman with his congregation, who denied his behavior reprehensible. Several stormy scenes have already taken place in the church owing to the scandal. During one of them the Rev. Simmons dragged out of the pulpit and prevented from preaching.

Women Support the Men.

FINDLAY, Ohio, Feb. 6.—Fifty women employed in the Bell Brothers pottery of this city, are on strike because the management refused to treat with the male employees who had been out since January. The entire factory is now closed, and nearly 200 persons are idle because of a reduction in the wage scale.

THE LAND BILL PASSED.

Provisions of the Land Forfeiture Bill Changed TO BENEFIT ACTUAL OWNERS.

The Postal Telegraph Bill Tabled for Another Session; Live Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The house today passed the senate bill amending the land forfeiture act of Sept. 23, 1890, so that the period within which settlers, purchasers and others, under the provisions of the act, may make application to purchase lands forfeited hereby, when such period begins to run from the date of the promulgation by the commissioner of the general land office of the instructions to the officers of the local land offices for their direction in the disposition of the lands.

The postoffice appropriation bill was reported and placed on the calendar. The house went into committee of the whole on the sundry civil appropriation bill—Mr. Payson in the chair. The pending question was on the decision of the chair on Mr. Dingwells point of order.

The decision of the chair was sustained—yeas, 134; nays, 127. When the vote was announced the republican side burst into applause.

DESPERATE GANG CAUGHT.

Ten Run to Earth on the Chickasaw Reservation.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 6.—Monday United States Deputy Marshal John S. Wayne and eighteen men got on the trail of a notorious band of outlaws in the Chickasaw nation, Indian Territory, and followed it until Wednesday morning, when they captured the band. The band consisted of ten men, and a hot skirmish ensued, during which Hodgins, one of the most notorious outlaws in Indian territory, was killed. The desperadoes, ten in number, finally surrendered, and were lodged in jail at Ardmore yesterday. There is a reward of $200 for Hodgins, who is charged with several murders.

Pullman Car Shops Burn.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 6.—Fire last night destroyed the Pullman car shops and other property. The fire started at 11:45 o'clock in the Pullman shops and spread rapidly. The fire was gotten under control about 1 o'clock. A number of small houses adjoining the shops were destroyed and many of the inmates had narrow escapes. The loss is estimated at $200,000, partially covered by insurance.

Election Methods in Spain.

BARCELONA, Feb. 6.—Senator Salmeron, the republican candidate for election to the chamber of deputies, has been defeated by the conservative candidate. The republicans are enraged and threaten disturbance. The authorities are taking great precautions to prevent any rioting. The republicans claim that Salmeron was elected and counted out.

An European Eight-Hour Day.

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—A manifesto has been issued by the social democrats declaring that the postponement of the labor demonstration until the first Sunday in May is in order to make it more widespread and emphatic in view of the gravity of the economic crisis which has subjected the working classes to great disasters during the winter. The McKinley Abroad.

BRADFORD, Pa., Feb. 6.—Mitchell & Shepherd, woolen manufacturers, have failed with liabilities of $25,000. The failure is attributed to the effects of the McKinley bill.

PARNELL'S BACKING.

Kind of Material Which is Said to be Behind Him.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The parliamentary correspondent of the Sheffield Telegraph, one of the leading provincial papers of England, says that reliable statements have reached him from an underground source in Ireland as to the real reason why Parnell is so obstinate in maintaining his hold on the leadership. "It is a fact," he says, "that in case of Parnell being thrust from the leadership the extremists, who are all on his side, would proceed to take revenge after their own style. An assassination club would be immediately formed on the lines so well known in Ireland. The victims to be marked down, however, would be men who had been prominent in hunting Parnell from public life. Tim Healy would be the very first to require protection. Mr. Gladstone's life would also be in danger."

Knowing the desperate characters of the men who are behind Mr. Parnell," says the correspondent, "can quite credit my information as to their intentions. They are the men who look with contempt upon the so-called constitutional agitation, and are ready to resort to any designs of their followers. He dreads the effect of their action for the reason that he knows as a politician that the result in England would be to put an end to all hope of home rule. It is understood that he has been able to inoculate William O'Brien with his fears. In the meantime he soothes the exasperated extremists and rivets their allegiance by urging his demands for home rule."

ENGLISH POLITICS.

Gladstone's Position Toward Parnell; Ulster Protestants Mean Business.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—It is understood that Mr. Gladstone will avoid making a direct reply to the demand of Parnell for assurances as to the Irish home rule by giving a statement of his intentions to the public. In this statement he will concede, it is believed, nearly everything, but for except the surrender by the imperial parliament of the right of veto. It is possible that this may lead to another hitch in the way of settlement, as Parnell has insisted that the action of the Irish parliament shall be subject to no veto except that of the sovereign. As the sovereign's veto is a power never exercised in this generation, Parnell means a practically independent parliament, something to which the liberals will hardly consent.

The Ulster Protestants Continue to Speak out with a Clearness that is Startling.

The Ulster protestants continue to speak out with a clearness that is startling, and they declare their ability, if not coerced by imperial troops, to whip all the rest of Ireland.

FOILED AT LAST.

Fecular Strategem to Get Possession of an Aged Woman's Property.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—A jury has set aside the will of Miss Sarah Hampson, who died a few months ago leaving a fortune aggregating over $65,000 to the Benevolent order. It develops that the old lady resided next door to the convent of St. Paul in Liverpool, and became acquainted with the nuns. One night about nine years ago two nuns employed for the purpose to turn down a portion of the wall of one of the rooms of the convent connecting with the residence and bodily carried the old lady to the institution. There she was kept a prisoner until released last year by death.

GERMAN AFRICAN CLAIM.

She Will Not Abandon in Favor of England.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The formation of a Hamburg company to take charge of Germany's interests in Southwest Africa, otherwise known as Demara Land, is a disappointment to the British colonialists at the Cape and not altogether pleasing in London. England has been expecting that Demara Land would be abandoned by the Germans as not worth the cost of maintaining, and that the British would get it cheaply. The Kaiser favored abandonment. But the patriotic sentiment of Germany was against any surrender of territory. Consequently Demara Land will be held for a Germany by the trading company just organized.

CHRONICLE ON RECIPROCITY.

Advocate Commercial Union, but is Ignorant of Canadian Sentiment.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—In an article on the reciprocity question, the Chronicle says: "We hope that common sense will prevail and that the time will probably rapidly approach when America and Canada see the folly of damaging the interests of friendly intercourse. The difference between the proposals of Sir John McDonald and those of the opposition is only one of degree. It would be rash to predict which the Canadians will adopt."

Purifying the French Stage.

PARIS, Feb. 6.—French police are reported to have under contemplation some method of restraining the extravagance of stage performances. In one of the theaters the figurantes execute farandole over the orchestra stalls, and the tendency is to almost absolute absence of attire in the ballet. M. Bourgeois, the minister of public instruction, is inclined to a more vigorous censorship of plays and apparently resolved that such exhibitions shall be debared from the French stage.

Australian Sculling Match.

SIDNEY, N. S. W., Feb. 6.—The papers for the sculling match between McLean and Stanbury for the championship of the world were signed yesterday. The race will take place over the Parramatta course during the last of April, the stakes being $1000 a side, and a side bet of $15,000.

Didn't Come to America.

PARIS, Feb. 6.—The initial Lavronovs for the sculling match between McLean and Stanbury for the championship of the world were signed yesterday. The race will take place over the Parramatta course during the last of April, the stakes being $1000 a side, and a side bet of $15,000.

Russian Navy Admiral Mobbed.

South-bound trains will leave Duluth at 1 p. m., West Superior at 1:15 p. m., as now. North-bound train will leave St. Paul at 1:05 p. m., Minneapolis at 1:35 p. m., reaching West Superior at 6:45 p. m., Duluth 7 p. m.

TO BEGIN DAM BUILDING.

Work Will Begin at Once on the Water Power Dams.

SO SAY THE BUFFALO BUILDERS.

Remarks on the Water Supply that Drs. Hewitt and Goffe Uphold.

J. E. McIntire, of the engineering firm of McIntire Bros., of Buffalo, N. Y., arrived in the city today to take charge of the construction of the dams for the St. Louis River Water Power company. Both brothers are familiar with the water power of the St. Louis river, one of them having done a good deal of the surveying for John Birkinbine's exhaustive reports on the subject.

Mr. Taylor, of the water power company, and Mr. McIntire, left for Thompson this afternoon to look over the site of the first dam which will utilize 5000 horse power. Mr. McIntire will arrange while here for the immediate construction of the dam. The Edison and Thomson-Houston Electric Light companies are both figuring on the cost of putting in a plant of this magnitude of power to the different manufacturing plants at New Duluth and St. Louis.

THE WATER.

Such Appears to be the Cause of the Fatal Fever.

An item as follows has appeared in several outside papers in the last day or two:

"Recently there were 700 cases of typhoid fever in Duluth, Minn., and four samples of water were sent to Dr. Vaughan of the university, for analysis. From one sample a drop of water was placed in beef tea, heated to a temperature of the human body and time was given the fever germs to grow. A small quantity was then injected into two rats, and analysis are in progress, but the unhealthy state of the water of that city is conclusively proven."

The Herald telegraphed to Dr. Vaughan asking this direct question: "Is there any truth in the statement that disease germs found in Duluth water, when cultivated by you, kill-d rats? It is so published."

And received the following reply: "An Arbor, Mich., Feb. 6.—Please consult Dr. Goff

THE WORM WILL TURN.

And the Senator Will Demand an Investigation

WHEN HE SAYS HE IS CALUMNIATED

The Requested Washburn Investigation Expected to Bring Several Matters to Light.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 7.—[Special to the Herald.]—Senator Washburn sent a message dated Washington yesterday and received here this morning demanding an investigation into the senatorial election of two years ago, when he was selected as junior senator from Minnesota after a hard fight, and that all the evidence be printed and read. On motion of Senator John Day Smith a resolution was adopted in accordance with Mr. Washburn's wishes in the state senate this morning.

This request, Mr. Washburn says, is the direct result of his outrageous attacks upon him, made in the senate chamber this week by Donnelly, attacks not only upon him but also upon every member of the present legislature who was a member two years ago. It is the result also, indirectly, of the many statements and covert charges in the state press and by speakers during the past two years, on the methods of his election.

Great interest was manifested in the senate this morning on the reading of the telegram and an extremely interesting time is looked for. Alliance members say they will not let the fray and will not only show some trouble for Washburn but for Jim Hill and his railway in connection with the Duluth & Winnipeg land grant bill.

The legislature has been attending strictly to business during this week and has accomplished much of important business, holding two sessions each day and committee meetings in the evening. Owing to the pleasure excursion to the State university yesterday both branches held sessions today for unfinished work. Representative Boyd thought of a new feature in the way of protection to the class of people so often imposed upon, and introduced a bill to prevent frauds practiced on boarding house keepers. It provides that when any person leaves a hotel or boarding house without paying his bill, he can be indicted. The bill should also provide against boarding house keepers "skipping out" in the night and leaving the boarders in the lurch with no breakfast, as was the case not long ago in Duluth.

Final discussion of the bill relating to the organization of the new county of Itasca will occur Tuesday morning. Mr. Stockwell yesterday afternoon called upon a resolution tendering a vote of thanks to Senator Washburn for his vote against the "iniquitous" force bill. Mr. Kane, from St. Louis county, thought it a good opportunity to sit down on Minneapolis, and moved to lay the resolution on the table, and the motion was adopted. The Butterworth anti-option question, which is a matter of great importance, will be reported to the committee on the table and the motion was adopted. A communication was received from the Nebraska house asking that a conference committee be appointed to confer with committee one from Kansas, Missouri and the Dakotas to discuss the interest rate question, looking toward a revision of the law. The bill would consist of three representatives and two senators.

Yesterday was devoted to a pleasure jaunt, and both branches of the legislature visited the state university, the party consisting of members, accompanied by a few ladies, the pages and porters. At the university a reception was given by President Northrup and 4,000 or more students. Various exercises were given by the students, and were made by President Northrup, Mr. Pillsbury and several members of the senate, including Lieutenant Governor Pillsbury.

Representative Kendall has been paying the closest attention to legislation. He lately introduced a bill asking for $300,000 appropriation for the Minnesota production at the World's fair, the commissioners from the state to receive $10 per day, during their time of duty. Some stinky granger replied: "Vally, I guess Mr. Kendall must live pretty high up in the air, see dollar would tip me whole family von week."

The annexation bill will be among the most interesting questions of the next week, and is attracting attention among many outside citizens who are interested in Duluth. The "free text book law" has been put in an appearance. The joint committee Thursday evening listened to a committee from the State Superintendent's association, which advised the passage of a free school text-book law and a law appropriating $500,000 annually for the conducting of county training schools. Secretary of State Brown has received official notice from Washington that the congressional apportionment bill has become a law.

SOME STRIKES.

News From Mines at Widely Separated Points.

BELLEVEILLE, Ill., Feb. 7.—A strike of coal miners in the Belleville district has been settled by arbitration. Two cents per bushel is what the miners demanded, but when they were offered a uniform rate of one and three-quarter cents they agreed to return to work.

Helen, Mont.—Fifty miners on a strike at the Cumberland mine in Castle district, went in a body yesterday and endeavored to drive away by force all men at work. Superintendent Lewis and the foreman stood the strikers off until officers arrived when the fifty men were arrested.

Evansville, Ind.—All the miners employed in all the coal mines along the line of the Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis railway between this city and Huntington, Ind., with the exception of B. Menden's mine at Chandler Station, have gone out on a strike. The prime cause of the trouble is that it is impossible for operators who mine their coal by manual labor to compete with machine mining. They were compelled to the face of this competition to reduce the scale of wages, which resulted in a strike.

Alger, of Michigan, and others have schemed it is reported, by which they will build up the towns on Puget sound into great territorial points, and take from San Francisco the bulk of her trade with the Orient by establishing an independent line of steamers to China.

DELANO, Cal., Feb. 7.—Passenger train No. 17, was boarded by robbers at Alhambra last night, and under cover of their pistols Engineer Thorne and Fireman Radcliff were forced to pull out to a point a mile this side and halt. The engineer and fireman were then taken back to the express car. The messenger, who was up and saw the robbers, and instead of opening the door, commenced firing at the robbers. Many shots were exchanged, one of which struck Messenger Passwell in the forehead, causing a slight wound, and the other striking the fireman in the side, producing a fatal wound. The robbers were beaten off.

Brave Masons Trunked.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—The two scores Knight Templars, who a few weeks ago volunteered to have a part of their skin removed and transferred to the body of a man who was in the hospital, to save his life, will be tendered a magnificent reception and supper tonight by the Acacia club and the leading Masonic lodge of the West. The operation has proved a complete success and Sir Knight Dickerson is rapidly progressing toward complete recovery.

Oklahoma Democrats Victorious.

OKLAHOMA CITY, I. T., Feb. 7.—The county election is over and the democrats have elected every man on the ticket. It is the same in every county in the territory. The democrats carried the range from 200 to 700. It is claimed the victory is due to Governor Steele's action in regard to the location house Monday. A communication was received here by the legislature and each time vetoed by Governor Steele. It was then located at Kingfisher and again vetoed.

A Family Poisoned.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 7.—Mrs. E. Best Smith, her 2-year-old daughter, a niece, Kate Lewis, and Emma Nichols, a colored servant, were poisoned yesterday and died in this city. LEADVILLE, Col., Feb. 7.—Billy Holman and Jim Purcell, two noted Colorado men, who fight with a knife, finished cutting at Eagle Nest lake today. The remaining camps on Lake Vermilion are but little over an hour, and the attorneys for the plaintiff, Edison & Hanks, naturally feel pleased at the quick rendering of so important a verdict.

FOR AN EXTRA SESSION.

Stated that There Will be an Important One.

HAPPY IN ALL CHICAGO TODAY.

For Mr. Candler, the World's Fair Meddler, is Apparently Knocked Out.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The Sun, in its issue today, says editorially: "We are not speaking from mere probabilities when we inform the public that a proclamation from the President may be expected, probably before the 20th or 25th of this month, calling an extra session of the United States senate to meet in Washington on the 4th of March or immediately afterward. It may also be presumed that the business to be brought before this called session will be of more than ordinary importance."

MR. CANDLER LEFT.

His World's Fair Amendment Voted Out of Order.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The house went into committee of the whole on the sundry civil appropriation bill, Mr. Payson, of Illinois in the chair. The pending question was the decision of the chair on Mr. Mason's point of order raised against Mr. Candler's amendment, which in its modified form reads as follows: "For expenses for the World's Columbian exposition and board of lady managers, $40,000, provided that all expenditures from this appropriation shall be subject to the approval of the secretary of the treasury on itemized accounts and vouchers, and the secretary of the treasury is not to approve the payment of any expense attendant upon a meeting of the commission or lady managers, except such as may be called at the time of the dedication and opening of the World's fair; nor to approve the payment of any expense attendant upon a meeting of the executive committee, nor upon a meeting of the executive committee of the board of lady managers except such meetings as may be held not often than once in six months; nor to approve the payment of any salary other than an annual salary not in excess of $5000 to the president; $4000 to the vice chairman of the committee; and $3000 to the secretary; nor to approve the payment of any salary to any lady manager other than an annual salary not in excess of $5000 to the president and $3000 to the secretary."

After a brief debate the chairman ruled the amendment out of order as changing existing laws.

The House Adopted the Conference Report to Ratify the Agreement with the Sac and Fox Indians and the Iowas in Oklahoma.

It Is Lake-side's Wish.

To the Editor of The Herald: Having circulated the petition referred to in the morning papers asking for annexation of Lakeside to take effect Jan. 1, 1893, I deem it due to myself and others to say that the only object I had in view was to correct the erroneous impression which seemed to exist as to the public sentiment of Lakeside on that question. There is no conflict of opinion as represented, the petition is approved by the committee and the people, and it is in line with the action of the committee. Our request is moderate and just and we expect it to be conceded without any fight or struggle whatever.

STEP TOWARD DEMOCRACY.

Bill to Revitalize the Minor Administration of Justice in England.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Mr. Charles Hayne, liberal member for Ashburton, has prepared a bill providing that justices of the peace shall hereafter be elected, instead of appointed by the government. The 10th of March is set down for the second reading of the bill, which will be opposed by the government but receive the general support of the liberals. The bill embodies an entire revolution in the minor administration of justice in England.

The justices of the peace now are nearly all well-to-do Tory squires, who have their own way in dealing with the poor people brought before them.

THE KAISER'S WARNING.

Count Waldersee Cautioned as to His Future Official Acts.

BERLIN, Feb. 7.—The Kaiser, in delivering to Count Waldersee his appointment as commander of the Ninth corps with headquarters at Altona near Hamburg, reminded him of his near relationship to the imperial family and remarked that he could best show his attachment by abstaining from any communication with those who sought to sow distrust among the people toward their sovereign. The Kaiser is believed to have alluded to Bismarck. The Kaiser has become very bitter toward Bismarck lately on account of the caustic comments to which the latter gives utterance towards the imperial policy and especially the emperor's labor reform program.

But before the steamer left he suddenly died of heart disease.

A GREAT CONSOLIDATION.

Three of the Largest American Lines to Coalesce.

AND MORE ARE SOON TO FOLLOW.

Nearly All Southwestern and Western Roads are Said to be in the Deal.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The Sun says: It is an open secret among their immediate associates that although Jay Gould and C. P. Huntington, representing respectively the Missouri Pacific and the Southern Pacific systems, gave their assent to the agreement which is the basis of the new Western Railway Traffic association, that agreement did not win their entire approval. It did not go far enough to suit either of them, but they accepted it as a step in the right direction.

"Mr. Huntington's remedy for the evils of excessive competition between the western railroads is consolidation. Mr. Gould's plan was the adoption of joint agencies for the conduct of all competitive traffic and the discharge of the vast army of freight canvassers whose zeal is largely responsible for the almost constant demoralization of rates. Mr. Gould's plan was referred to the commissioners of the new association. Counting upon the acquiescence of the Adirondack, many, Messrs. Gould and Huntington have had their lieutenants prepare exhaustive analyses of the capitalization, the indebtedness, earnings and mileage of the Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific and Atchafalaya system with the view of determining from them a basis upon which three systems may be consolidated or brought under the control of a single operating company. Executive officers of the Southern Pacific system have been summoned from San Francisco to take part in the work, and it is trustworthily stated that Senator Stanford has given his support to the scheme.

"As yet none of the three interests are absolutely committed to the proposition but all have taken it up with a degree of earnestness that argues strongly in favor of its adoption.

"Those who have the confidence of the leaders in this movement are of the opinion that should it succeed it will not stop short of the absorption of the Texas Pacific, the Union Pacific, the Wabash and probably the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroads.

TEXAS VIGILANTS.

Civilizing Influence of a Duties Organization Still Felt.

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Feb. 7.—Jesse Salcido, a Mexican recently from Fort Stockton, was found dead hanging to a tree near Knickerbocker, thirty miles south of here, yesterday morning. Wednesday night he was at a friend's house in Knickerbocker, when three mounted white men stopped and requested him to come to a dance with them a short distance. That was the last seen of him alive. There is no clue as to the identity of the perpetrators, nor is there any cause known for the lynching.

IN REGARD TO WATER.

The Report of Dr. Vaughan is as Yesterday Outlined.

WHAT THE CITY PROPOSES TO DO.

Reservoir and Intake Pipe Already Partially Examined; Mr. Craig's Usual Joke.

The specimens of water taken for microscopic analysis and sent to Dr. V. C. Vaughan, professor of bacteriology of Michigan university, as noted in The Herald yesterday, were secured as follows: One specimen was taken from the surface of the city reservoir, another from the bottom of the reservoir, another from the house of Totman brothers, 711 East Second street, and the last one, in which the typhoid fever bacilli were found, was taken from the residence of a prominent man at the west end who lately died of typhoid fever of a very violent type. This residence was new, and the plumbing was all the latest.

The directions of Dr. Vaughan under which these specimens of water were secured by Health Officer Rosseter were very minute and were followed to the letter. The glass jars and their rubber tops had to be sterilized by placing them in water which was gradually raised to the boiling point and kept boiling for some time. The jars were allowed to drain. The hands were not allowed to touch the rubber nor the inside of the jars. The water taken from faucets was allowed to run for some time before the jars were filled. From each of the specimens sent Dr. Vaughan, according to his report received last evening, he took a drop of water and put it in each case into a drachm of beef tea which was kept at the temperature of the human body for twenty-four hours. At the end of that time the water was inoculated, each one receiving a small portion from one of the separate specimens of liquid thus cultivated. Only one of the rats died, namely, the one which had been inoculated with the cultivated preparation of water taken from the west end. An autopsy revealed that the animal had died of typhoid fever, and microscopic examination of the kidneys revealed the absolute identity of the bacilli with pure cultures of typhoid fever bacteria taken from a well established case. This cultivation of bacteria in warm water suited greatly, of course, to the number and malignance of the bacilli in the water.

Eight other specimens of Duluth water are being analyzed and microscopically examined by competent scientists and no steps will probably be taken in the matter until these three reported on.

Mayor Davis stated to a representative of The Herald today that if it could be shown by indisputable proof that typhoid fever bacilli existed in the water furnished by the Duluth Gas and Water company steps would be taken at once under the terms of the franchise of the company to secure its forfeiture to the city. "The city authorities, however," continued he, "are desirous of other confirmatory evidence."

Health Officer Rosseter said this morning that about nine-tenths of the typhoid fever cases in the city had occurred in houses where the city water was used, and it was quite probable that these others might have used city water during the daytime while at work.

There have been but few cases at Lakeside, and these only of people who were up town during the day, showing that the point from which The Herald has all along urged that water be taken, and where the water company has promised to take it at some time in the distant future, is a safe one to supply from.

Michael Chalk went down yesterday and examined the intake pipe of the city water works out to a distance of fifty feet from the shore. It then became so dark on account of the ice over his head, that work had to be suspended for the present. For the first fifty feet the pipe is apparently sound. The divers who fixed the pipe before, stated that it was broken and patched up at a distance of over 100 feet from the shore. It is probable that no further examination can be made for some time.

Mr. Chalk is examining the condition of the reservoir today. Other samples of water will be sent from the bottom of the reservoir for microscopic examination.

A Herald man called on Manager Craig of the Duluth Gas and Water company, this forenoon and was greeted with the exclamation, "Well, I suppose you have come around to hear the other side of the question. You may tell them that the other side has nothing to say upon the question." The everlasting smile flitted over his countenance as he remarked, "I guess I'll have to bottle up that water and sell it as rough on rats." Had Mr. Craig lately lost any dear friends by typhoid fever he would not, probably, have been so facetious.

Michael Chalk completed his examination of the reservoir today and found it perfectly sound without any leak. The water was clear except on the bottom where he found a gray fungus growth of from one eighth to one-quarter inch in thickness with a sediment of sand and other materials.

No one can tell whether there are harmful organisms in this sediment or not until it is examined under the microscope. Specimens of the water from the bottom of the reservoir will be sent to Dr. Vaughan and others for examination.

WORLD OF COMMERCE

Cash Wheat and Futures on the Duluth Market.

MONEY MARKETS IN THE EAST.

Leading Speculative Commodities in All the Leading Markets of the World.

The market opened here this morning weaker with sellers at 1/2c off, and ruled dull and waiting during the session. The first trading took place late at 1/2c off in May, which sold in large lots. There was a fair demand for cash wheat to arrive for milling purposes at 1c below yesterday's figures. The bank statement for the week indicated that the banks are doing a very large volume of business. The increase in the wheat stocks for the week are between 30,000 and 35,000 bu. The mills used about 50,000 bu for grinding. The shipment for the week of wheat were light. The afternoon session ruled dull with little done except in May just at the close.

Cash No. 1 hard sold at the start for 90c, cash No. 2 northern sold at 94c. Cash wheat in store had little demand except in the No. 2 northern grade and closed weak at 95c, 91 1/2c and 97 1/2c. May sold at the opening for 81c and dropped to 90 1/2c, selling steadily in the forenoon at that figure in lots of 10,000 to 15,000 bu. It closed at 98 1/2c for 1 hard. May 1 northern sold at 96 1/2c and fell off 1c up to the close. No trading was done in February wheat.

New York Money and Stocks.

New York, Feb. 7.—Money easy, 2 1/2 per cent. Exchange steady; actual rates, 48 1/2 for sixty days, and 48 1/4 for demand. Government's closed steady; currency, 94, 81 1/2; 4 1/2, coupon, 81 1/2 bid; 4 1/2, 81 1/2 bid.

The stock market was fairly active. The dealings for the most part were confined to about half-a-dozen stocks. At the opening prices were irregular, but most of the stocks were firm and showed advances ranging from 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. Under the lead of Pacific mail, Erie, Union Pacific, Lackawanna, North American and St. Paul, the whole list advanced. Toward 11 o'clock there was some reaction. Manitoba was a marked exception, advancing to 11 1/2 late in the hour. Very little was done later until the appearance of the bank statement published about 11:30. It was unfavorable, and showed a decrease in the reserves of $3,700,000. This resulted in a sharp selling and prices reacted to within a fraction of the lowest of the day.

Chicago Money.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—The clearings for the week were $76,939,337, against $87,172,101 for the same period in 1900. Foreign exchange ruled firm at 48 1/2 for sixty days and 48 1/4 for sight drafts. Exchange on New York opened at 25c discount bid, and par asked, with no transactions, before clearings.

Chicago Live Stock.

UNION STOCK YARDS, Ill., Feb. 7.—Cattle: Receipts, 20,000; strong. Hogs: Receipts, 38,000; weak and 10c lower; heavy, $3.35 to $3.65; mixed and medium, $3.40 to $3.65; light, $3.25 to $3.60. Sheep: Receipts, 2000; steady.

Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—All of the speculative markets on "change" started out quiet. Wheat was affected by lower cables, the heavy receipts in the North, and the statement that exports of wheat and flour as wheat from both coasts for the week were but 1,367,000 bu, against 2,653,000 bu last week and 2,744,000 bu for the corresponding week last year. Duluth and Minneapolis receipts were 200 cars.

May wheat started at 98 1/2c and sold to 98 1/2c during the first ten minutes. May corn started at 53 1/2c and sold to 53 1/2c. May oats started at 40 1/2c and sold to 40 1/2c. May pork started at $10 and sold off to $9.95. May lard at $5.75. May ribs at $5.32 1/2.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Endorse Salaries Against Fees; and Raise Their Own Salaries.

At the regular meeting of the county commissioners a resolution was passed directing the county attorney to draft a bill increasing the salary of the commissioners from $25 to $750 per annum. All commissioners residing more than ten miles from town are allowed $100 for mileage in addition. He was also to fix a bill raising his salary to $2500 and that of his assistant to $1000. They then passed a resolution commending the action taken by the chamber of commerce in that direction.

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that we view with pleasure efforts made in the direction of changing fees of county officers to salaries. It is our opinion that all county officers should be paid a fixed salary. That good compensation should be paid for services rendered."

The county attorney was instructed to draft bills compelling Lake and Cook counties to pay their share of the expenses of the district court, and one fixing the sheriff's fee for boarding county prisoners at $3.50 per week. The deputy county treasurer and county auditor are to receive hereafter a salary of $125 per month.

Contracts for furnishing county supplies were awarded as follows: Blanks, National Paper company; stationery, Duluth Book and Paper company; blank books, J. D. Barnard. A new school district was created at Independence, the committee on court house and jail was instructed to tear down the old jail building; the county attorney was instructed to ask for an appropriation for the bridge across Cloquet river on the Swan Lake road. At today's meeting a communication was received from S. S. Luther, auditor of Aitkin county, enclosing a report of the convention held in Braintree on Jan. 28 to discuss the advisability of taxing railroad lands, stating that a commissioner had been appointed to take further action in the matter and that Geo. N. LaVague and E. R. Jefferson had been appointed.

A QUIET PLACE IN PA

Where They Had a World's Fair
Fifteen Years Ago.

DICKENS, KIPLING AND WANNAMAKER.

Nye Writes of One Franklin and the Place Where He Stood Off
His Creditors.

(Copyrighted by Edgar W. Nye.)

PHILADELPHIA, February 1891. Much attention is now being attracted toward this city because of the recurring World's fair, one of which was at this place fifteen years ago come next July. World's fairs may come and World's fairs may go, but in the gentle boom of the hence, Philadelphia, Pa. has made a name for any more of those. Proud and happy that she made a hit, she has been ever since sweeping away the old cigar stores, and resending the old place where the great hurry-curler from a distance cut his watermelon and bedded down his team in Fairmount park in 1876.

WHERE THEY ATE THEIR MEALS IN '76. I could not avoid a little pang or two of pain when I rode through the beautiful parks of Chicago in November, and was told that there the great hurry-curler would have its home for a few months in 1893, and that time alone could undo the devastation. And who is most benefited by a World's fair? Surely not those who pay for it. But who speak so easily of what is for the general good, though it may come of personal sacrifice?

Two hundred and thirty-six acres were devoted to the World's fair in Philadelphia. Horticultural hall was the most ornate building on the grounds. Many believe that there will be nothing or more in Chicago than this same building, which was built at a cost of over a quarter of a million of dollars by the city of Philadelphia.

Admiral Boston. I love Chicago. I do my trading in New York, and pay my pew rent on Staten Island, but I respect Philadelphia, and although I have not yet succeeded in running an account at Mr. Wannamaker's, I often go over and visit Franklin's.

Mr. Charles Dickens, the great novelist and Ruyard Kipling of his time, says: "The journey from New York to Philadelphia is made by rail, and yet succeeded in running an account at Mr. Wannamaker's, I often go over and visit Franklin's."

ber of copies of the paper, dignified men in the prime of life called out, "Watermelon!" "Watermelons!" and things like that, which really bore on the subject under discussion.

I wish that Mr. Dickens could have been present at such a gathering. It would have done him good. A movement is on foot, I understand, looking to the entertainment of Mr. Kipling at this club next year. I shall try to be there, and will cheerfully loan the club the tin cans necessary for the purpose as soon as I can take them from my own corner.

The spot on which Philadelphia is built was first discovered by Capt. Hendrickson, in the yacht Oriskany, which sailed from Manhattan in the year 1623. He returned to New York the following week, but his baggage did not reach him till the following spring, and it fell into the hands of a local express company, the officers of which were sadly in need of suitable winter clothing.

In 1828 the Swedes came in and settled on the Delaware river. Philadelphia was laid out in 1821-2 by William Penn. Later on, the city was the seat of the State bank. Times at present in Philadelphia are good. Farm produce is coming in promptly and at good prices. George Washington presided at a convention here in 1775, and while in the city purchased a town lot, intending at no distant day to erect thereon one of his justly celebrated residences.

Washington and Adams were both inaugurated as president of the United States at different times in congress hall, and made epic inaugural addresses, in which they said that the Indiana was a ward of the nation and that the nation was a ward of the nation.

Independence was born in Philadelphia on other places, and the first tremulous wail of the newly fledged bird of freedom was heard about dusk on the fourth of July, 1776, at Independence hall.

Mr. Pleasant, in the park, I am told, was built by Capt. John McPherson and bought by Benjamin Franklin, the gentleman who sought unsuccessfully to sympathize his soul to some English capitalists. It is a place of historic interest. He gave the house to his wife, partly as a mark of his esteem for her, and partly in order to get the laugh on his creditors.

At the corner of Arch and Fifth streets stands Christ church graveyard, and near the corner is an iron gateway which is kept fastened. Through this iron lattice work you may peer into the burying ground, and almost in reach from the street are the graves of Benjamin and Deborah Franklin. On a cold winter's day it is not an uncommon sight for two or three strangers to rest their damp noses on the frosty iron of this railing and read the crumbling name of that great genius and well-known job printer, who was not only a very able man, but utterly free from the morbid and morose diseases which seem to more and more assert themselves in our now somewhat middle-aged republic.

In fancy now I can see Benjamin tripping gaily down to the office, wearing a coonskin cap in winter time, which was the cause of his early baldness. In my mind's eye I can see the great printer, philosopher, statesman, almanack and inventor as he enters the front of the building, and the great starting the sheriff, in case he should be waiting for him at the front.

Two hundred and thirty-six acres were devoted to the World's fair in Philadelphia. Horticultural hall was the most ornate building on the grounds. Many believe that there will be nothing or more in Chicago than this same building, which was built at a cost of over a quarter of a million of dollars by the city of Philadelphia.

Admiral Boston. I love Chicago. I do my trading in New York, and pay my pew rent on Staten Island, but I respect Philadelphia, and although I have not yet succeeded in running an account at Mr. Wannamaker's, I often go over and visit Franklin's.

Everyone knows him and many trade with him. I did not visit the store this trip because I knew I would have to trade with him, and when I go there to trade I want to deal with John himself. I often go there to attend a remnant sale, and you'd be surprised to see what I get for three or four dollars.

I got a pair of kip boots there two years ago that are good yet, and you can get as good a little gristleless shoe for all purposes as you can get in New York for the same money. I like to see a bright, able man get ahead, as Fitzsimmons said to Dempsey the other day at New Orleans.

The animals in Fairmount park, I think, are superior to ours at Central park in some respects, though there is one style of baboon here at the zoological gardens that has led such a sedentary life that his trousers are pretty shabby where they have been sat on so earnestly.

The birds are favored a little higher than ours, I think, and the Australian bird cage is less melodious. A egg full of eggs, and a bird sitting on a nest, and I went back to that bright summer afternoon when an active young man in the far West who had recently graduated tried to sell me a bird.

Bolivar, the big elephant, is here. He is a large and very beautiful beast, with a trunk at each end. I like to stand for hours and look with one of these large, reversible mammas.

Chicago's Fire Marshall Discusses the Stability of Flat Steel Buildings.

The wholesale use of steel in the great buildings now being erected throughout the country is deprecated by many people who have made the subject of building materials a study. Fire Marshall Swenick of Chicago, is one of these students who have made the stability of steel columns in tall buildings.

"These steel-framed structures which apparently are good for 100 years are threatened with a danger that at first may seem almost absurd," said Mr. Swenick. "Even steel will not endure forever. It is used to be said that a three-inch steel bar could not be broken with a blow, still the three-inch axles of a railroad engine now and then snap off when there is not the strain of a law. The steel axle of a buggy are not absolutely safe after a few years of use. Science has recently discovered that even the best of steel constantly undergoes a gradual change, known as crystallization, which, sooner or later, alters the steel, and causes it to break into something akin to cast iron. When that change has taken place the steel framework of high buildings is no longer so secure, and a collapse because of the great weight may some day result."

"An ordinary steel beam in our viaducts and bridges will lose its tensile strength of about one-eighth of an inch in a year. This corroding takes place even beneath a heavy coat of paint. The question is read the crumbling name of that great genius and well-known job printer, who was not only a very able man, but utterly free from the morbid and morose diseases which seem to more and more assert themselves in our now somewhat middle-aged republic."

FOLK LORE OF ENGLAND.

The Embowered Home of Robin Hood and Little John.

LEGENDS OF THE ENGLISH PEOPLE.

Wakeman Writes of the Buckram and Strongbow Days of Britain.

THE LONGER one wanders in England, Scotland and Ireland the more encompassing and impressive becomes that charm growing out of what may be termed literary identification.

Over there in Ireland what can be more fascinating than a silent ramble about slumberous old Youghal and up drowsy Kilkenny way? There Raleigh and Spenser lived, loved and wrought. Tramping from Kilkenny to Caherisheen one lingers lovingly at Carhan Bridge, for beside it the great O'Connell was born. Who but a bigot can climb the Rock of Cashel without a subdued and reverent awe of the historic and sacred surroundings, or who but an insensate shudderer not at Boyne and Aughrim, where the life of a nation broke in its last wild throes upon river and morass? Then, at Slane, who can fail of awe in the presence of prehistoric monuments rivaling the pyramids themselves.

So, too, how illimitable seem human cycles, yet how compact and little, when you are strolling among the remains of that tremendous pagan stronghold, Dun Egnus, on the remotest precipice of Arranmore, the most desolate of all Ireland's islands. The great archaeological Dr. Petrie, termed it "the most magnificent barbaric monument in Europe." The legend is that Dun Egnus and the five other great forts or duns, of the Aran islands were built from 1,000 to 1,500 years before the Christian era, by the flying and fated Fionnuala. No matter about the legend. There they stand to-day, more weird, suggestive and awe-inspiring in their drowsy secrets of the people that were there than could lie in the silence of the Lybian Sphinx. And then, away in the North, over beyond old Derry, what a thrill flashes through one when standing alone upon the walls of the mighty Grianan of Ailech, whose existence can be definitely traced to the period 1053 before Christ!

On the crests of these cringing mountains burned the signal fires in the dim days, a sign of flame to wake the helms and their herds. Thither to the Grianan they streamed, those skin-clad hordes. Within those very ramparts huddled the afflicted women and their flocks. Within those very walls kings watched over battles. There were the feasts of victory, the wailing and lamentations, the wild, wild cries of the infinite God. But you did not see this until your own feet had pressed the same earth their dead had trod, and your eyes had looked upon lone Errisglisk, like a cone of steel in the mist, and through the grim, dark passes, to the purple mist above Armagh and Tyrone.

In all that can be read of the "Land of Cakes" how the feeling is lacking until one weds presence and actuality with the timeless tales of words. To know the weird straths and glens of the North, to breathe their air, to drink in their wild and gorgeous colorings, to listen to the roar of their glorious waterfalls, to feel the wind's caress, to tremble in their mighty storms, is to come very close in thought and sympathy to that grand and noble race which all the Roman legions could not conquer. Its desperate, fateful loyalty to the house of Stewart can never be fully understood until you have tramped from the Western Isles to the German coast, and wandered on Culloden Moor. Macbeth, King Duncan and Malcolm, Chomera are mere creatures of Shakespeare's fancy, until you find in the dusty records of old Inverness that they once walked its streets with all your own passion, hope, ambition; and until you have stood on Tomnahurich, by the Ness-side, you have never really known Hugh Miller, stone-mason, great heart and sage.

Despite Dr. Johnson's matchless apostrophe to Iona, the story of Columba's saintly life, of the Christian enlightenment emanating from it to the whole British Isles and the greater part of Europe, when nearly all the people were still the first fires of apostolic sacrifice had partially relapsed into superstitious barbarism is as dramatic as the legends of the Holy Grail, until you have stood among the majestic ruins of Iona and wandered along its "Strait of Marth," where the countless chiefs, friars, abbots and kings, after you have passed an hour in the ancient churchyard of Greyfriars, in Edinburgh, you will begin to realize who were the covenanted of Scotland, and what they endured for their consciences' sake. When you have come to the ruins of Lochmaben, Robert the Bruce, patriot, king and warrior, first leaves the mists of legend and tradition, and welcomes you as a man of flesh and blood to his old home by the sedgy lake, Melrose, Dryburgh and all the grand monastic structures of the sunny, murmurous Tweed are poets' phantasies until you wander among their ruined cloisters and touch with your own hands the brave old stones of their majestic arches. Scott, the "Elfrick Shepherd," Carlyle, even Burns himself, are ideal, until you have stood by the Elfrick and Yarrow, heard the princely Abbot of Melrose, and the dolorous death and meanness of Carlyle's boyhood home at Ecclefechan, and heard with your own hearing the melodious songs of the Nith and the Doon.

It is this true of Ireland and Scotland how infinitely more impressive is this identification to the average American pilgrim in England, the motherland of our own race and tongue, a mighty volume, and a sweet and tender one within, could be made, relegating apparent realities to their home in myth and legend, and beckoning from the realm of legend and tradition the actual beings whom imagery first swept from reality, and whom successive centuries of poetic fancy, shared alike by us from childhood to manhood, have placed further and further behind the ever-loved veils of mystery and song. No two characters in the semi-mythology of Britain are better illustrations than those of King Arthur and Robin Hood. Antitypes as they were and are, the one the embodiment of the loftiest and noblest qualities in ruler and man, the other, journeying from the forest and the "levelled" of his time, both are objects of equal, though unlike, devotion not only in the literature of centuries but in the breasts of millions who speak the English tongue. The most curious thing about these two characters is that the least aid to identification are found among the high-minded and learned. Literature universally places them in shadow-land. But go where you may among the English lowly, King Arthur is really there; Robin Hood with his faithful Little John, Friar Tuck and their hundred archers, bold, are ever a goodly company, a helpful unconscious ethical counterpoise, it has sometimes seemed to me where burdens and impositions of caste and condition are most grievous and sore to abide. A few years of wandering among the British lowly, more than all reading and study, have convinced me that both King Arthur and Robin Hood once really existed and lived much the same manner of lives as responsible for their legendary character, have shadowed forth. I can take you into thousands of cabins in Devonshire, Cornwall and in Brittany—for King Arthur is even more a god to the Britons than to the West of England American Celts—where books are unknown, where no manner of literature ever came; where history of clan and sect have been preserved from father to son, where the Arthurian legends live more brightly and glowing than in all the printed tales of the "Table Round."

These folk say, and believe, that Arthur is still in fairy-land; that his spirit often returns in the guise of a bird, the chough, hovering about the old scenes with pathetic murmurings; and that he will surely "come again."

"Wearing the white flower of a blameless life," reign as a king should and might over the beloved English. Literature never provided 100,000 bookless folk with this. It remains, because in it has been clothed, without books, a fadeless actuality.

In like manner Robin Hood's land becomes the whole of England. Piercing their armor of sordid reserve, you will find the sober English peasant and the grave English workman have minds full enough of chivalry and romance. Robin Hood is immortal with these, because, as a "levelled" of rank and class, he represents an undefeatable yet certain power to buffet the church and the nobility. Fairly defined, Robin Hood's land comprises the shires of Nottingham and Lincoln with the southern half of Yorkshire. There is a ploughman, forester, gamekeeper, and I would almost venture to say, any human being among the lowly, outside the factories, in this portion of England, who has not a clearer conception of the life, character and exploits of the merry outlaw than all books could give.

But precisely as I have found with the Cornish and Devonshire peasantry in identification of King Arthur and his hamshire and Yorkshire that are discovered innumerable proofs, in tradition, ballad and nomenclature, of the merry outlaw and his men. Literature has an ignorant peasantry. The peasantry themselves have furnished by word of mouth the material—and but an infinitesimal portion has been utilized—enabling writers old and new to transfer the real Robin Hood to the fiction of fiction and song. Perhaps half-a-dozen hamlets, the one ancient city of Nottingham, so old that its history goes back to the Christian era and its first inhabitants dug holes in the rock for houses, and a few chapels, abbeys and priories of the rudest construction, could have been found in all Robin Hood's area. Today a forest of chimneys stands where stood the giant English oaks. You can look from no open spot within it, without your horizon being clouded with their black silhouettes against the smoke-laden sky. As many hundreds of towns and hamlets are in Robin Hood's land now as there were single ones in the archer-outlaw's time.

But near the roaring of the forge, the clatter of the looms and the mournful songs of millions of spindles, like the tiny notes of the meadow larks escaping the blades of the reapers, are little nests of English peasant's homes, bits of English copse and hedge, and patches of ancient English oak, which modern industry and modern landholders have quite effaced; and it is among these, seeking the wraiths and traditions of the old Robin Hood's land, and the new that we go pilgrimizing in our next.

EDGAR L. WAKEMAN. Nottingham, Eng., Jan. 14.

THE ADMIRATION FOR WEALTH.
It is More Apparent in the Old World Than in the New.
[T. W. Higginson, in Harpers Bazar.]
The simple truth is that while the admiration for mere wealth is as old as the world, it is seen at its utmost in an aristocratic, not in a democratic community. Hamerton has pointed out more than once how in England the two forms of social precedence interlock and support each other.

An English merchant, long resident in New York, told me once that he was always impressed, on revisiting England, with the greater deference there paid to mere wealth, as compared with his adopted country. He told me especially of an occasion when he rode in a carriage with two kinsmen, one of whom was very wealthy and afterward lord mayor of London, while the other was unsuccessful and poor. It was the richer relative's carriage in which they were riding, and the other, although by far the more refined and cultivated man of the two, went uncovered in deference all the way. When my acquaintance remonstrated with him for this act of groynophany, he admitted it, but answered, "That sort of thing may do very well in America, but you will find that a man must act quite differently here." The anecdote sheds floods of light upon the added felicitous of wealth in Europe. Whether they are noble feelings is quite another question.

To Enfranchise Women.
TOWSON, Kan., Feb. 7.—The committee on political rights of women presented a report today in favor of the passage of the bill which gave women the right to vote at all state county and city elections. The committee makes some remarks concerning the article of the constitution which names the qualification of electors, and holds that it is not necessary to amend the constitution in order to make women qualified voters, but that it can be done by legislative enactment. The committee was unanimous.

THE WISEWAZTEES.

Their Method of Smuggling Metal Has Been Discovered.

Seeking the rediscovery of the lost art of smelting, a field for research for many years of an experimental turn, a committee of the interior department is at work in New Mexico trying to discover the lost process by which the Aztecs carried on the smelting of ores. Old mines are frequently discovered there and in Mexico, but what process the primitive inhabitants used to extract the precious metal from the ore has never been definitely determined. Recently there was found in the old Montezuma mine, near Albuquerque, an ancient smelter that had never been fired, but which was in the condition in which it was left by its builders when work in the mine was probably stopped by some great catastrophe. The committee have carefully examined this smelter with the hope that from it they could discover the method by which the prehistoric people of America were able to separate metals by processes that are now no longer known. A newspaper correspondent describes the smelter as "about five feet in height and about three feet square, and so arranged internally that heat could be evenly distributed to every part by a system of pipes."

The commission has made an accurate diagram of the smelter, showing the details of construction and operation, but the conclusions arrived at the result of their investigations will not be known until the official report is made. It is apparent, however, that the refractory metals were made to furnish the fuel after which they in the shape of fumes were discharged. Old mining men of that region are confident that this ancient smelter, centuries old, will furnish the key by which the Aztecs smelted their metals, and thereby revolutionize mining industry in those parts of the Southwest where it is impracticable to establish the large and expensive smelting plants in use in Colorado, Montana, Nevada and other Western states.

HARDLY JOHN C. NEW.

Not Expected That he Will Get the Treasury.

THE JEWS COMING TO THIS COUNTRY

England Happy Over it; Is it Another Case of Wrong Immigration?

New York, Feb. 9.—The Sun says: A politician who returned recently from Washington thinks that John C. New will be the next secretary of the treasury. He said today: "At 5 o'clock on Thursday afternoon President Harrison called Gen. John C. New, consul general at London, to come to Washington at once, the idea being that he take Mr. Winton's place."

The published statement that Consul General New has been called to return to the United States presumably to accept the position of secretary of the treasury is a matter by which much interest in official circles. Assistant Secretary of State Wharton said today that Mr. New had not applied for leave of absence, had not been called by the state department as far as he knew and was presumably at his post. Whether the president had called for Mr. New, Wharton could not say. Private Secretary Halford said if the president wanted to appoint Mr. New the most direct way seemed to him would be to appoint him, and not call for him to come here and then appoint him.

United States Consul New, replying to questions as to rumors which connect his name in regard to the secretaryship of the treasury, said in London today: "I have not received any message from President Harrison and I know nothing about any proposition to offer me the treasury portfolio."

CATHOLICS AGAINST SOCIALISM.

German Protestants said to be alarmed over the Kaiser's favoritism.

London, Feb. 9.—The latest concessions to the Roman Catholic party, whose members of the Reichstag are strongly supporting the government are arousing suspicion and uneasiness among the protestants of North Germany and the protestants of Free Prussia against any yielding to the Jesuits have been followed by similar protests from religious bodies. The concord between the Kaiser and the Vatican, however, continues to be a subject of much interest. It is known that the Kaiser and his interview with Leo XIII and his ever since treated the subject with interest. It is known that the Kaiser and his interview with Leo XIII and his ever since treated the subject with interest.

DON'T WANT THEM.

England Adverse to Receiving Jewish Emigrants but Sends Them Here.

London, Feb. 9.—The news of Baron Hirsch's immense gift for the benefit of Russian and Polish Jews, emigrating to the United States has been received with considerable satisfaction in London, as there is strong opposition here to any more immigration of Russian Jews to England, and Lord Salisbury's government has been asked to interfere. The latest arrivals from Russia on their way to America, are the most equal as regards the question of socialism have been established a well defined concord in action. The point it is said received in the empire a considerable amount of conducting a struggle against socialism and instructions have been sent by the holy see to the German bishops to co-operate with the imperial government in its efforts to prevent the spread of socialist ideas.

More Work for Exiles.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 9.—Russia will use the labor of exiles whose sentence includes hard labor, in the construction of the Siberia railway.

Brasilia Scene a Fable.

Paris, Feb. 9.—The French police have been told by an individual who sent a false telegram about the affairs in Rio Janeiro for the purpose of creating a panic in Brazilian bonds, and they hope soon to have the guilty person arrested.

Schlieffen Appointed.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—The emperor has appointed Gen. von Schlieffen to be chief of staff of the imperial army, to succeed Count von Waldersee.

STANLEY'S PHILANTHROPY.

Will Contribute all Royal Gifts for Benefit of the Poor.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 9.—Maj. Pond, Henry M. Stanley's manager, announced here yesterday that Stanley had decided to give all the gifts which he has received from the crowned heads of Europe and other admirers to Gen. Booth, of the salvation army, for the cause of helping the poor in London. These gifts are valued at nearly $50,000. They consist of pearls of rare value, gold cups and kindred articles. A number of them were received from Queen Victoria.

United Mine Workers.

COLUMBIA, Feb. 9.—Delegates are arriving to the national convention of the United Mine Workers of America which opens here tomorrow. Every mining district in the country will be represented. Several vital matters, among them the inauguration of the eight-hour day, on May 1, are to be acted upon.

A Fatal Jump.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 9.—W. S. Brooks of Hannibal, Mo., committed suicide here this morning by jumping from the fourth story of the Hotel Thorpe. The affair is shrouded in mystery. The hotel people know nothing of the man or his affairs.

STARTLING DEPRAVITY.

Neglects His Family for Drink and They Die of Starvation.

SING SING, Feb. 9.—Mrs. William Stanton gave birth to a child several days ago and has since died for want of proper care and food. Her husband is a public moulder and works in the foundry near by. He is a hard drinker and neglected her. Mrs. MacDonald, a neighbor, called in to see her yesterday and found her dead. The child had died and was found buried in the back yard in an old cloth. Four children were born before who are all dead. One was found buried in a newspaper in the cemetery about two years ago.

SOMEWHAT RETICENT.

Director Davis Expresses Himself on the Result of the Election.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Director General Davis is inclined to be reticent regarding the recent action of congress in reducing the expenses of the world's fair officials, as he thinks the animus of his remarks will be attributed to the reduction of his own salary.

"It is not my business to pass on congressional action in cutting my salary or anybody's else," he said. "If the measure is passed by both houses it can step down and out if I don't like it. However, I can't help noticing the contrast between the appropriation of $40,000 for the lady managers and $27,500 for the officers and their employees. In the latter appropriation $8,000 is allowed for clerical, which is to be divided among us. With one-half of that amount I can't hire clerks to keep records and send out mail. Will this force the board to make up the difference? Of course it will, and that is just what a good many men in congress think the board is for, and what they propose to do."

VALUABLE PACKAGES FOUND.

Probably Left There on Purpose by Thieves.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—While ripping the cushions in the sleeping car last Saturday, Henry Prentice, a car repairer, ran across two valuable packages. One contained $500 in new bank bills and the other held $200 in government bonds. The car was sent to the Pullman shop, reaching there Monday. The money was found in a worn-out cushion in the coach Atlanta, Prentice handed the packages over to General Manager Sessions. Inspector Hunt has the case in charge, and will try to find out where the money was placed there by thieves and forgotten. It is not known on what road the Atlanta made her last run.

ST. PAUL MURDER.

Dago Engage in a Quarrel Which Ends Fatally.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 9.—One of the most thoroughly unprovoked murders that St. Paul has ever known, took place at Arion hall this morning shortly after midnight. The Christopher Columbus society was holding a dance with a view to perfecting their organization. Joseph Macello, a fruit vender, quarreled with Savine Radino as to payment for a lunch. Paolo Binda put in a few words, whereupon Radino, without warning, upon him and seizing a large bread knife from the lunch counter stabbed him in the heart, killing him instantly. Doctor Druce intervened to prevent the cutting and was badly cut about the hands and face.

In Self-Defense.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 9.—Charlie Jones, a brother of Rev. Sam Jones, has been acquitted of murder at Carter's ville, Ga., the family home of the evangelist. Some months ago Charlie Jones shot and killed one of the most prominent negroes in the town, and for several days past has been on trial. The jury was out but a short time. It was proven that Jones had been badly interfered with by the cutting and was badly cut about the hands and face.

Several Collisions.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Last night several collisions between steamships occurred at Gravesend. The steamer Caroline, bound for London, from Gravesend, was in collision with the steamer Lambeth. The former vessel sank. Subsequently the Lambeth collided with the steamer Schan, from London, and the latter ran into the Delbrame for London from Rio Janeiro. The Delbrame was so seriously damaged that she filled and sank. The Schan was badly damaged with two unknown steamers, the steamship Maggie, bound for Cardiff from London, has been compelled to return to Millwall for repairs.

Illinois Steel Works Stop.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—The Illinois steel works at South Chicago are practically at a standstill, as 500 men have quit. The men first asked for an advance of 10 per cent wages. As no agreement was reached the works will probably be closed today.

Ex-Minnesota Official Dead.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 9.—Charles Shandrew, insurance commissioner of Minnesota under Governor McGill, died of heart disease Saturday evening. Mr. Shandrew was one of the leading republicans of the state. He was 61 years of age and a native of Detroit, Mich.

Livery Establishment Consumed.

HUTCHINSON, S. D., Feb. 9.—The livery barn of L. C. Treadway was burned yesterday. Twenty-four horses, carriages, buggies, etc., were consumed. Among the horses were two stallions worth $300.

Small Blast.

PRIMA, Ohio, Feb. 9.—A fire in Music Hall block Saturday night destroyed the building. Loss, $20,000; insurance, $15,000.

Alleged Embezzler Discharged.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—In the case of Walter Potter of Potter, Lowell & Co., charged with embezzlement, Judge Hardy this morning discharged Mr. Potter.

ARE READY TO FIX IT.

But Affect to Believe the Intake Pipe is All Right.

HOW ABOUT A FLANK MOVEMENT?

An Employee of the Company Who Makes to The Herald Startling Statements.

Several officials of the Duluth Gas and Water company were in Duluth yesterday from St. Paul in close conference with Local Manager Craig regarding the late developments on the purity of the water supply.

It is not known whether these officials took kindly to Mr. Craig's ghastly joke over the bottling of water for sale as poison, but they could not see any fun in the matter when in conversation with others. They were plainly shown by the city officials that no foolhardiness could be allowed, nor would the company be handled with gloves if it refused or neglected to provide for the pure water Duluth should and can so easily obtain. They promised that every effort should be taken to furnish good water and that steps would be taken to examine the pipe, and they would be held to their word. However, this promise is so old and familiar and so vague that it is hard to tell just what it means or will ensure.

The officials were as positive as Superintendent Craig has been that the intake pipe is all right, unbroken clear to the end, though they didn't appear to have any better grounds for their comfortable belief than those given by Mr. Craig himself in an interview with The Herald on this subject a few weeks ago, when it was distinctly charged by this paper that the pipe was broken. Not only did these officials deny the existence of a break at or near the patched place of two or three years ago, but they mulled incredulously when asked if it would not be possible to repair any break before they get to the bottom of the matter, and thereby to throw dust in the eyes of the people and confound the statements that there has been and is a break.

One of the former employees at the pumping station of the Duluth Gas and Water company made the following statement only a few days ago: "I am sure there is a break in the intake pipe of the Duluth Gas and Water company's office. I have repeatedly seen it under the intake pipe, and at a point of 100 feet or more from the shore over the intake pipe on account of what I believe to be the suction of water through the intake pipe. It is noticeable that when thrown near the edge of the lake from under the intake pipe, it is a splash. Only a short time ago a fish weighing about twenty-two pounds got into the pump well. I do not see how such a fish could get into the intake pipe through the screen at the end of the intake pipe unless it is broken."

TO THE MINES.

A Spur to be Built to the West Mesabi Mines.

W. H. Fisher returned yesterday from St. Paul. He stated to The Herald today that he has been instructed to locate a spur track from Grand Rapids to the Duluth and Mesabi mines and will begin the work at once. As regards the right-of-way into Duluth Mr. Fisher states that they are negotiating with the property and will select one of three routes along which the property can be secured the cheapest.

A MERRY WAR.

The Question of Electric Light Fought a Warm One Tonight.

One of the members of the common council is authorizing the statement that there will be a merry war at the council meeting tonight over the committee's prospective favorable report of the electric light franchise.

The New Iron Plant.

Capt. Frank Barrett returned yesterday from a visit to his home in Ohio. He states that the additional plant for the manufacture of tin will be put into the Iron Plant Steel works as soon as the other machinery.

SAVANNAH WILL BOOM.

For it Will be the Outlet of the Gould Systems.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 9.—Jay Gould intends to make this the Atlantic coast outlet for his Western and Southwestern business and will establish a direct line of steamers from here to some European port.

A Benign Governor.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 9.—When Jay Gould was in this city Governor Northen declined to meet him. He said he objected to him because of his policy of monopoly of his business methods. The common people would Mr. Gould nothing and as chief executive of Georgia he could not do Mr. Gould reverence.

A Chicago Dividend.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—The Chicago and West Michigan has declared a 2 per cent dividend payable Feb. 16.

IN ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Builders' Association Endeavoring to Decide Important Labor Questions.

New York, Feb. 9.—The fifth annual convention of the National Association of Builders was called to order at Masonic Temple this morning by John T. Tucker, president. One of the most important subjects the gathering will be called upon to consider is that of arbitration. At the last convention a committee was appointed to define the position of the organization on the question. This committee has prepared a report which will be presented later in the week. The association encourages the formation by workers of trades unions with a central body. The object of the organization is the unification of the building interests of the country by legislation and the adoption of certain fixed methods and principles of business. It advocates a uniform system of apprenticeship and the establishment of manual training schools and night schools.

KICKED TO DEATH.

Came to His End While Under the Influence of Liquor.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 9.—Bernard Suckenburg, a farmer, met a horrible death Saturday night. He had been in the city, and after drinking heavily started for home. A neighbor met the team a d stopping them found Suckenburg lying across the doubletree and the tongue of the wagon. His feet were caught under the whiffletree on the left side, while his head and body were dangling across the right whiffletree. The head and arms were dragged on the ground and were horribly bruised and mangled. The head of one of the horses was covered with blood and had badly bruised the man's back by frequent blows.

OUR MEXICAN CITIZENS.

Will Annihilate Advocates of the Territory's School Laws.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 9.—The attempted assassination of Senator Anchita at Santa Fe, it is thought, was the first step in a conspiracy to murder Senator Stover, of this city; Mills, of Las Vegas; and Anchita, of Silver City. The school law just passed by the territorial legislature has been bitterly opposed by a large class of the native citizens. The opposition has been strenuous against Messrs. Stover, Mills and Anchita on account of their brilliant and persistent advocacy of the measure.

HALL A DUFFER.

Fitzsimmons Will Pay no Attention to His Challenge.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9.—Bob Fitzsimmons was shown a dispatch saying Hall was ready to fight him. "Jim Hall is a duffer and I don't propose to fight him or any other man who has been beaten by a man of Owen Sullivan's caliber. Hall does not want to fight me, and could not be made to do so. All he wants is to get good advertising at my expense. I have made Jim Hall quit in five rounds twice, once in public and once in private. I'll pay no attention to the challenge. My next fight will be with Ted Pritchard, the English champion."

A New Jury for Simmons.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Judge Benedict today discharged the jury empaneled in the trial of James A. Simmons, charged with wrecking the Sixth National bank. This was done because it was learned that Simmons at one time had business relations with one of the jurors named William B. Goodlew. The judge ordered a new panel to be drawn, to appear on Wednesday. Simmons' counsel at once prepared a writ of habeas corpus under the fifth amendment to the constitution. Application on it will be made this afternoon.

ANNEXING CANADA.

Says it Cannot be Done in Our Day Except by Force.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 9.—Hon. William McDougall, in an interview today, opposed unrestricted reciprocity and direct taxation, and endorsed Sir John Macdonald's trade offer to the United States. A recent letter to Mr. Wynand Mr. McDougall said:

"I regard annexation as unattainable in our day except by force, which means war between England and Canada on one side and the United States on the other. I do not expect to witness such a catastrophe, nor will you. If annexation, therefore, is out of the question in our time, why should we permit it to obscure the true issue? Why abandon our reasonable, beneficial and probably the only feasible scheme, to wit, a free interchange of enumerated goods and services on both sides? Even this adjustment, as you know, will not give us free trade. There will still be a wire fence. Foreign goods cannot cross the line from either side without the payment of duty. The custom houses, therefore, must still be maintained. In my opinion a reciprocity treaty on the basis of that of 1854, but including a greater range of articles, is the only practical method of dealing with our neighbors while Canada remains a colony."

CHICAGO & ALTON SOLD.

And Bought Probably by the Gould Interests for the Missouri Pacific.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—The sale of the Chicago & Alton road is in progress, probably to the Gould interests. Control of the stock is now locked up in New York and the price of sale practically agreed upon. In the event of a sale the Chicago & Alton would form the Missouri Pacific's entrance into Chicago from Kansas City and St. Louis. It is possible that Gould may make use of the situation to persuade the Atchafalpa to conform to his views.

FIRST DAM CONTRACT.

Let to the McIntires to be Done April Next.

WILL UTILIZE 6000 HORSE POWER.

And the Slate Brick Works Will be the First Concern to Use It.

The contract is let to McIntire brothers, of Buffalo, for the completion of the first dam for the St. Louis Water Power company. It is to be completed April 1, and will be erected just above the falls at Thomson. It will give a fall of ten feet, and will be built diagonally across the stream. The dam will be between 300 and 400 feet in length, and will be built diagonally toward the flume or race, thus allowing the use of every ounce of power.

The dam will utilize at the minimum flow 6000-horse power. Only one flume will be built at first but it will be so arranged that others can be put in later.

The plans are now being prepared for the slate brick plant buildings and the quarry will begin work in the spring.

Mr. McIntire will be back the first of next week from Buffalo with all his machinery and will commence work as soon as the men and materials can be got on the ground after his return. The Faine Lumber company will furnish the lumber and the Iron Bay works will furnish iron, bolts, etc., needed for the construction of the dam.

Mr. McIntire states, "I will guarantee for one-eighth of 1 per cent on the cost of the construction of the dam, that it will stand the pressure and wear and tear of all the logs that will ever come down the St. Louis river for fifty years."

Mr. Emery stated today that the St. Louis River Water Power company would be willing to allow a right-of-way to railroads over their property if the land companies failed to get a bridge across the St. Louis river.

WHERE THERE ARE STORMS.

The Severe Storm That Has Raged Over the Country.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 9.—The storm that began Saturday night west of the Black Hills and swept southeast, raged for twenty-four and did not cease in Nebraska until this morning. Overland trains from the West are held between Sidney and Cheyenne, but will be released this afternoon. Some Black Hills trains and trains on branch roads in Nebraska are still snow-bound and will not be able to turn a wheel until tonight or tomorrow morning.

Pierre, S. D.—The storm of Saturday night and Sunday was very severe in this section and trains were late several hours at this point.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—The storm has been general all over South Dakota and was very severe in the Black Hills.

Cheyenne, Wyo.—Six Union Pacific mail, passenger and express trains were delayed by a blizzard at Cheyenne and Sidney, Neb., and intermediate stations. Three of them with 400 travelers were on side tracks. Rations for these and the blockaded ones at isolated stations were shipped from this place.

Omaha.—A heavy snow storm nearly blocked the street car traffic. Reports from all portions of the state show that the storm was very severe. In the southern part of the state the snow was reported very heavy and drifting from four to ten feet deep.

New Hampton, Iowa.—The heaviest storm of the season prevailed yesterday. Trains were delayed and at one time a blockade seemed inevitable.

Albuquerque, N. M.—The mountains are covered with snow several feet deep, and stockmen report great distress among stock, and especially the sheep, which are freezing to death. Passenger train traffic has been greatly impeded.

MINERS RESCUED.

Three Saved Who Have Been Imprisoned Since Wednesday.

WEST NANTUCKET, Pa., Feb. 9.—The three miners who were hauled in by water and supposed to be drowned in No. 3 colliery of the Susquehanna Coal company last Wednesday afternoon, were rescued alive this morning. The names of the men are: John W. Kinner, Wm. Cragle and Michael Sheelan. They could not have lived much longer on account of the scarcity of air. They were found by the crew of rescuers at the top of a cross heading, the highest point they could reach, and were only six feet above the elevation reached by the flood. Here they had waited in darkness and gloom, but not without hope for rescue. It was not until 2 o'clock this morning that Geo. Bendel managed to float upon a raft across the water which they filled the bottom of the main gang way.

The imprisoned men heard him as he reached the side they were on, and shouted faintly to him, "we are up here all alive and waiting for you. Bendel took up a joyful shout and sent it across the water saying, "The men are found; they are alive."

Two other hardy miners, Anthony Jones and Wm. Bowen, at once plunged into the abyss and swam to the other side, and soon others followed them. The men were reached and brought to the main gang way. Milk was given to them as nourishment, and at 5 o'clock they were carried upon the shoulders of the rescuers across the water. When the rescuers came to the men they were rapturously greeted, the three miners embracing and kissing them. The two little villages across the river from here, where the men live, are filled with unspeakable joy over the rescue.

A GREAT RAIL COMBINE.

The Northwestern Railway Said to be in Cahoots.

SO THE NEW YORK STORY GOES.

And So, of Course, the Northwest Will be Required to Believe It.

New York, Feb. 10.—The World this morning prints the following: "Before 1891 has expired all the railroads in the Northwest will be operated under a single management." These were the prophetic words of a gentleman who was one of the prime movers in organizing the Western Railroad association. The event, he predicts, as outlined by him, is the most gigantic railroad consolidation that has ever been undertaken.

The railroads in the Northwest include the Northern Pacific, the Canadian Pacific, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, the Chicago & North Western and the Great Northern. Plans for their practical consolidation are now nearly complete. Exactly what the plan is, the World's informant refused to state, but it has met the approval of all those directly interested in it, and little remains to be done except to work out some details.

With these great systems knitted in a community of interest they would absolutely control the rapidly developing Northwest. They could fix rates at a remunerative price, and what is more to the purpose, they could maintain them.

In railway circles general doubt is expressed as to the truth of the consolidation. Officials of the roads here will say nothing whatever on the subject.

The Oregon Transcontinental.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 10.—A circular has been received from the New York office of the Oregon Improvement company stating that that company has offered to preferred and common stockholders opportunity of purchasing 100,000 5 per cent bonds. It is probable that within a month the property will be turned over to the company and the receiver discharged.

FOR EIGHT HOURS.

United Mine Workers Preparing For a General Aggressive Demand.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 10.—Delegates from every mining region of the country assembled in secret convention here today in response to a call issued by the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America. The outcome of this gathering will mark a stage in the second act in the struggle of the American working day.

The Federation of Labor has officially guaranteed to support the coal miners, and before the convention adjourns the movement will be formally inaugurated. The 120,000 men will be striking in involved in the contest. Of these 75,000 are in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky, 25,000 in the anthracite region, Pennsylvania, 12,000 in the Pittsburgh district and 20,000 in the central bituminous fields of the West.

The struggle is to take place May 1. The miners' organizations have been preparing for the contest two years. His unions are thoroughly organized. The success of last season by the carpenters was the initial step in the eight-hour movement, which, if completed, will extend to every branch of organized labor.

AGREE TO DISAGREE.

Minnie Palmer and John Rogers Separate and Divide Spoils.

New York, Feb. 10.—Will Carlton's pathetic poem, "Betty and I are out," finds exemplification in the marital troubles of Minnie Palmer and her husband, John R. Rogers. John has more than divided up with his wife out of their joint savings of the past few years, and it is understood that he has turned over to her in the neighborhood of $100,000 in cash and realty and $40,000 in diamonds and jewelry. The joint committee of the state legislature met yesterday and decided that the voters of this state knew nothing of the constitutional convention when they voted for it. After a long wrangle both bodies finally decided that the matter was submitted to the people wrongly, and refused to canvass the vote.

Seed for the Reward.

ASHLAND, Wis., Feb. 10.—A sensational suit was begun yesterday as a sequel to the famous Perrin trial for this Hurley bank robbery. TO ENLIST INDIANS.

Solve the Indian Problem by Making Soldiers of Them.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—An important feature of the program for the future treatment of the Indian question is the scheme now being prepared by the war department for the enlistment of young bucks. It is proposed to enlist about 2000 Indian boys from 15 to 20 years of age, and to attach them to each of the infantry and cavalry regiments serving in the West. These companies will be commanded by men especially selected for their knowledge of Indians and their habits.

A conference on the substitute was asked. The naval appropriation bill was then taken up.

SO SAY COMMANDERS OVER THERE.

Of the eighteen detached forts which are to defend Bucharest, ten will be ready and armed with their Krupp guns before the summer, and the remaining eight are to be completed early in 1892. The entire Roumanian army of 300,000 men could be concentrated within the forts. King Charles is giving personal attention to the work.

Gen. Mano, chief of the Roumanian cabinet, says that war could not be long delayed in Europe, and that small states like Roumania must be found unprepared.

JEAN VALGAEAN.

Crime Committed from a Different Motive, but He Repents.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—Ten years of hard labor at the galleys has just been meted out to a bank cashier named Midas, who pleaded guilty to the misappropriation of $80,000. He obtained the money by procuring a loan from the Bank of France and the Credit Lyonnais. The sums obtained he debited to the accounts of persons who dealt with the bank, and so well had he covered up his tracks that although a few days before his confession his books were audited by expert accountants, the crime was not discovered, and his accounts were passed as perfectly correct.

Midas finally voluntarily confessed his misdoings to Gen. Monquin, commissary of police for the Faubourg Montmartre, saying that he had given himself up to justice in order not to injure the reputation of his bank.

IRISH POLITICS.

Parnell Refuses to Retire Longer Than for One Session.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—It is not probable that the McCarthyite meeting projected for Thursday next will be deferred. If held, it is not believed that a complete statement can be submitted. The Gladstonian assurances are not considered adequate by Parnell, and he refuses to bind himself to retire for a parliament. The whole was a session of maiming in control of the Irish party in the House of Commons.

ITALY'S PUZZLE.

New Ministry Said to be Composed of Diverse Elements.

ROME, Feb. 10.—Public opinion is cooling towards the new ministry, owing to the belief that it is composed of incongruous elements, and lacks a common program. Much difficulty is experienced in filling the minor offices. The majority of the members of the left have been elected, and the leading members of the right are in the minority. It is denied that King Humbert will consent to a dissolution of parliament.

FOREIGN STRIKES.

Situation Among Workmen at Different Points in Europe.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The strike situation on the Albert docks is becoming critical. The striking laborers are only restrained from overt acts by the presence of a formidable body of police. Work on the steamships has ceased and the companies charge the laborers with having broken faith.

A great strike of the glass workers of Lyons, France, is in progress, and is pending. A desire for an increase in wages is the cause of the agitation.

The dock laborers strike at Cardiff grows more serious, although free labor is plentiful.

Wide-Awake William.

BRICE MAY RESIGN.

Exit from Senatorship Voluntary, but from the Richmond Terminal, Otherwise.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 10.—The future of the United States Senator-elect Brice will be under discussion in this state in a few days. The colonel has resolved to abandon politics and resign the office of senator. This is his determination. Whether he will be dissuaded from acting precipitately will depend upon what sort of advice he is given by Ohio people.

This action is said to be prompted by advice Mr. Brice received from New York business friends. He has suffered financial loss through attention given to politics and he intends to devote himself exclusively to the repairing of his financial fortunes. He is understood to have agreed to lay the matter of his retirement from the senatorship before his Ohio political friends. This is his plan, disapproved though it may be by his activity in inspecting railroads.

A retirement of another sort is very likely to occur when Jay Gould returns from his Southern trip. It is well understood that Gould intends to bounce him from the Richmond Terminal, and along with him Mr. Patrick Calhoun, who had senatorial ambitions once upon a time.

SERVANT GIRL CONFEDERATE.

Let Her Husband Into the House to Rob His Inmates.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—A cleverly planned robbery was committed early this morning in the residence of Lewis Adler, proprietor of Adler's Halstead Creek Opera house, at 35 Deputy street. The burglar was let into the house by his wife, who is Mr. Adler's servant girl. As a part of the plan he tied her to a bed-post, and then entered the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Adler, and when he had frightened them into silence by displaying a cocked revolver, broke into a bureau and carried off about $1500. The husband was arrested and confessed last night. The burglar has escaped.

Nearly all suffered loss of clothing and tools.

SWEARING THE INDIANS.

Several Important Cases on Trial Today at District Court.

Cases 67, 68, 69 and 74 in district court, which were put on trial yesterday, were continued today. They are suits for title against the Highland Improvement company, of Duluth, brought by several claimants who appear to be of the usual title-fighters' style. They live in Superior, where the man who was the trumped-up Buck claim several years ago, hailed from.

They claim title to a large part of the 21-50-14, valued at several hundred thousand dollars, and half a dozen Indians were brought in from Turtle Mountain and the Sisseton agency. The testimony today indicates that the Highland company will win its case. There ought to be some way by which these contestants may be made to pay costs.

COAL ON DOCKS.

Enough to Make an Appreciable Difference in Lake Business.

It is estimated that there are nearly 400,000 tons of coal on docks at Duluth and Superior, while probably half will be on hand at the opening of navigation. This is a greater amount than has been left over here in earlier years though last season saw large quantities of coal on docks when the receiving season began. This large amount will have a tendency to further depress the shipping trade early in the year and make a greater difference than may first seem possible in the carrying traffic of the season.

Mrs. Penney's Funeral.

At the brief funeral service held over the body of Mrs. D. C. Penney this afternoon there were present friends who crowded her pretty home. The floral arrangements were many and beautiful and the prayer of Rev. A. W. Ringland and the prayer and remarks of Rev. E. M. Noyes were a touching tribute to the dead. After the service the body was taken to the station and accompanied by Mr. Penney and Mr. Bassett, taken to Berlin, Wis., on the 4 o'clock train. Many friends were also present at the station to testify to their love and sympathy.

OUT OF THE IRON FIGHT.

Contestants for the Eaton-Merritt Reduced to Three.

AND OF THESE TWO CLAIM THE BEST.

The Most Far-Reaching and Important Land Office Decision of Recent Years.

Telegrams were received here about 3 p. m. last evening announcing another decision on the famous Eaton-Merritt Sioux half breed scrip case. There was a general powwow of the iron land men over the news. About half the iron land men are directly or indirectly interested in the case. The land involved is 320 acres of section 39-63-11, on which it is claimed that there is more iron in sight than on any tract of land of equal extent in the world.

The new decision reaffirms Vilas' decision on the worthlessness of Sioux half breed scrip when not located by or in behalf of the Indian, knooks out Huntress & Brown, who filed Chippewa scrip for some reason, leaves the preferred right of Hyde and McDonald in the original status until application is filed and all subsequent entrymen to the case notified and states that the secretary condemns the neglect or connivance by means of which the Reed patent claim was obtained but has no jurisdiction in the matter.

This leaves Hyde and McDonald in the lead with Hartman & Mallet still in the fight with their Valentine scrip, and the Minnesota Iron company, which filed Porterfield scrip through Draper & Davis, coming next. The backers and friends of Hyde claim that he will get the property now beyond a doubt and that all that Hyde and McDonald ever asked in the matter was a hearing, feeling confident that if the facts were presented the land was theirs.

Hartman & Mallet claim a contract on the part of Hyde which debars him from claiming title. The remaining contestants and contestees will fight it out before the general land office for years yet, while the Indian scrip holders will probably appeal to the United States court.

About eight years ago Eaton and Merritt located their scrip. Then came Hyde and McDonald with a contest as original pre-emption. Later, Huntress & Brown made application to the land office for additional land. The land was divided into lots, and was decided there in favor of Eaton and Merritt. Hyde and McDonald appealed to the general land commissioner who reversed the decision, when Eaton and Merritt carried it up to the secretary of the Interior. The decision telegraphed last evening confirming Vilas' decision simply leaves them where they were two years before. The 123 acres of land covered by the Reed patent which was originally a part of the half section involved in this feckless out fight is eliminated entirely from the case by the secretary, who shows that the matter is now beyond his jurisdiction. It will be remembered that this patent was put through the general office ahead of hundreds of others, either by neglect or connivance. In half an hour after the Reed patent was filed, and before night the property was apparently sold to an innocent purchaser and is now in the hands of the Germania Iron company. The secretary of the Interior telegraphed to impound the patent and the telegram reached here the same afternoon that the patent was recorded, but too late. Thus A. M. Reed got possession of one of the most valuable pieces of iron land in the country. The only remedy now lies in the United States courts and even there the case is virtually hopeless.

Nothing is said about the sheriff's fees. The county commissioners are to have charge of the employment of all deputies and help needed in the different offices. These officials are to file a sworn report each month regarding the amount of fees collected and turn them over to the county treasurer. The chamber adopted resolutions favoring one cent postage.

Carl Grosse is back from a trip to the Western coast, and is much pleased with the country and climate.

The G. A. R. post met last evening and Commander Hammond installed C. J. Fossell as past commander.

The Olaf Matheson entertainment last evening was a very successful affair. The hall was crowded to its fullest capacity and each number was well received.

After the entertainment the hall was cleared of chairs and dancing was indulged in. An elegant supper was served at the Queens hotel. Many Duluth Scouts were present.

The social dance and supper given by the uniform rank of the K. of P. last evening, called out about seventy couples and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

A Sensible View. To the Editor of The Herald: An article in this morning's News from Onota says in substance: "That by the construction with Duluth, large improvements will be made in Onota that will bring $500,000 in railroads and other docks, and without annexation these industries and the millions behind them will skate across the bay and hoist their flag on the Wisconsin side. If this is true, people should be satisfied with the Duluth City and God bless you."

We cannot afford to lose stupendous enterprises like these, they will help us all, and if Onota can satisfy our West Duluth people that the statements made are true, we have not a man dwelling within our limits who has the interest of the head of the lakes at heart who will not sign a petition to let Onota go, and if he can make it another million we will go with her.

PLEASE EXPLAIN.

But Nobody Can Give an Entirely Satisfactory Explanation. The other afternoon a most peculiar circumstance was observed by dozens of skaters on the lake. When near the old breakwater holes were broken in thin spots in the ice and lighted matches applied to the "steam" rising therefrom.

The escaping substance—evidently water—was not from the steam, but from the fact that the matches were not lit, but from the fact that the matches were not lit, but from the fact that the matches were not lit.

So far the only explanation given is that the ice imprisoned a gas generated by the wheat that fell into the lake at that place when elevator A burned five years ago, and that this gas, as soon as liberated rushed upward in sufficient quantity to produce flame. If this is the correct theory then gas from the same source has been passing off for years.

Another explanation is that it is believed that it would cost $5000 a year more to light the city than at present; because a better plant could be put up for less money, he knowing of a company who would duplicate the present one for $85,000; because he did not believe the contract for which the company was $20,000 to release was legal, because he did not believe in giving away franchises and then buying them back at large prices. Mr. Lester backed up every statement he made by figures but the resolution was adopted by a vote of 11 to 1.

The following communication was received from the Gas and Water company: "The recent announcement that in an examination of samples of water one was found to contain typhoid bacilli was a surprise to our company. All previous examinations have shown the water to be pure. No citizen of Duluth can be more anxious than we are in this company to determine what is the true condition of the water supply and to have a proper remedy applied if it be found to be impure. It is important that the water supply should not be hastily condemned as impure."

"We suggest that the city employ a professional scientific expert to act as a similar expert employed by this company to secure samples of the water and that the samples be sent to some eminent bacteriologist expert who should be kept in ignorance of the place from which they came and who has not heretofore expressed an opinion."

The proposition was accepted. Professor Smith, of Beloit college, will represent the company and Dr. Goffe the city. Professor Smith will be here this week.

The returns of the late city election were submitted and the results announced. The matter of paving Belmont street, from Montana avenue to city limits, was referred. The report of the commissioners on the condemnation of land for Ninth street was also presented. Other minor business was done.

The Methodist ministers' meeting at the head of the lakes was held in Lester Park Methodist church. All the ministers reported prosperity, good congregations and excellent Sunday schools. The Epworth leagues are growing in numbers and interest and usefulness and a deep spiritual interest prevails throughout the churches. The paper by Rev. S. S. Farley was a scholarly production and was well received. The methodists of Lester Park are doing good work under the pastorate of Rev. Farley. Rev. A. F. Thompson reported a donation of two lots by the New Duluth Land company. Mr. Thompson is planning for a church in New Duluth in the near future. Arrangements have been made for re-organizing the Methodist alliance and also for a lecture by Rev. Dr. Stafford, of Minneapolis, Friday evening next, at Grace church. Dr. Stafford's subject, "A Trip to Venice," is an interesting one and a large attendance is expected.

For Better Boiler Inspection. W. D. Tomlin has gone to St. Paul in the interests of the amendments to the law for the inspection of steam boilers lately introduced. Mr. Tomlin has demanded that application for the inspection of boilers shall be filed in the same manner as for the United States marine inspection on the lakes, also that an applicant have a certain experience as a fireman and engineer, especially with that most dangerous class of steam generators, the threshing boiler, and that his application shall be endorsed by three engineers who know his character and abilities. This is creating opposition among the alliance faction, though Mr. Tomlin is getting letters from all over the Fifth district urging the senators and representatives to use all their influence to push these amendments.

Other matters of a private nature were taken up and certain resolutions were passed endorsing the action of the officers.

The question of the negotiation of the bonds of the road was touched upon and the report was to the effect that purchasers had been found for all of them.

In the Wine Test. Prof. Hilgard has discovered an error in the Government Table. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Professor Hilgard, of the university of California, claims to have discovered a serious error in the government table for the termination of alcohol in sweet wines by the saccharometer. It is announced to be a termination by volume, but Hilgard says it is one of weight which involves the discrepancy of about seven per cent. The government table is in error, it is claimed, in favor of the winegrowers.

WORLD OF COMMERCE.

Cash Wheat and Futures on the Duluth Market.

MONEY MARKETS IN THE EAST.

Leading Speculative Commodities in All the Leading Markets of the World.

The first sales in May wheat this morning were made at unchanged figures from yesterday. The market ruled dull all day and dropped $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ on the report that rain was abundant in wheat regions of California. New York reported 40,000 bu No. 1 hard wheat taken for milling purposes. Detroit had orders for 100 cars of milling wheat which they could not furnish. Chicago has 50 cars for New York mills and was shipping 30,000 bu to Indianapolis mills. These reports of excellent demand for cash wheat had the effect of greatly strengthening the market which advanced all around from $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to $\frac{3}{4}$ ¢ in the afternoon. No trading, however, was done and the market ruled very dull. The close was strong with bids at an advance over the opening of $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to $\frac{3}{4}$ ¢ and from $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to $\frac{3}{4}$ ¢ all around for the day. The close was at the outside figures of the session. The May future was the only option which had any demand. No. 1 hard wheat may opened at $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and dropped to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, selling in the forenoon. In the afternoon it bulged up to the close at $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ bid. May No. 1 hard opened at $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ with sale, dropped to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ and in the afternoon sailed sharply to $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ at the close with bids. Except for cars on track there was no demand for cash wheat. No. 1 northern sold early at $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ on track. Cash wheat in store closed strong without transactions at $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ and $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ bid. There were no dealings in February wheat, which closed firm with bids at $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ bid.

The closing prices were as follows:

	Cash	Feb	May
No. 1 hard	88	88 1/2	1/2
No. 1 northern	88	88 1/2	1/2
No. 2 northern	88	88 1/2	1/2

Cars on track: Wheat, 10; last year, 51. Receipts: Wheat, 1301 bu. Inspection: No. 1 hard, 18; No. 1 northern, 54; No. 2 northern, 9; no grade, 2; No. 3, 1; No. 1 white winter, 7; total, 91.

Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Wheat started out rather weak. The increase of 384,000 bu last week in the quantity of wheat and flour as wheat on ocean passage was the chief depressing influence. With the light exports of American wheat last week it was thought that there would be a decrease in the grain stock. The increase was largely due to heavy shipments of Indian wheat. The fact that the cold wave did not materialize was also against wheat.

May wheat started at 97 1/2. There was a scattering sale or two at 97 1/2 and the market then settled at 97 1/2, where it became quiet and steady. May oats started at 52 1/2; May oats at 45 1/2. Following is the close: Wheat, May, 98 1/2; July, 98 1/2; Corn, May, 22 1/2; July, 22 1/2; Oats, May, 45 1/2; July, 45 1/2; Pork, May, 80 1/2; July, 80 1/2; Lard, May, 80 1/2; July, 80 1/2; Ribs, May, 84 1/2; July, 84 1/2.

AT THE BETHEL.

A Most Interesting Feature of Tonight's Scandinavian Entertainment.

One of the attractive musical features of the Scandinavian concert tonight at the Bethel will be a violin solo by Mr. Flaaten accompanied by Professor Tonn.

The composition that will be played is the famous one "The Visit to the Sater." Ole Bull never wrote a more popular ballad. Through him it acquired an international renown. It embodies the freedom, the grandeur as well as the social charms of the Sater. That is the name for the extraordinary rich mountain meadows of the mountain plateau during midsummer. These mountain pastures average between 8000 or 11,000 feet and play an important part in the domestic husbandry of the peasants.

MR. HILL'S GREAT HEAD.

Great Northern's President Makes a Masterly Move.

GETS CONTROL OF THE KANSAS CITY.

And Thereby a Direct Route to Chicago; Besides Plenty of Cash.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—There is a certain scheme on foot which will create a great flutter and a good deal of excitement in Northwestern railway circles. President James J. Hill, of the Great Northern road, went to Europe a few weeks ago. It was then thought and stated that he went to raise money for completing his new western road from Helena, Mont., to the Pacific coast.

While that, no doubt, was one object of the trip, it is now learned that his principal reason for going abroad was to enter into negotiations with the English and Dutch capitalists who several years ago guaranteed payment of the interest on the bonds of the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City road, and to induce them to transfer to him their interest in that road. From all that can be learned Mr. Hill has already attained his object and has secured a controlling interest, not only in the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City line, but all the additional capital necessary to build the Pacific coast and all other desired extensions of his own road.

The chief of these extensions will of course be the line from Fairhaven, or Puget sound, south to San Francisco, which is to be built in connection with the Union Pacific, while the abundance of capital will permit various schemes of Mr. Hill's for work on the Pacific coast. The acquisition of the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City road will give the Great Northern a direct entrance into Chicago and will make the latter road one of the greatest railroad systems in the United States, with a through line from San Francisco up the Pacific coast to Puget Sound, across to Chicago and Duluth, and on from the latter city by a line of steamships to Buffalo. The company has a network of lines in North and South Dakota and into Iowa.

President Slicker of the Kansas City road, says that the consummation of such a deal would be a very good thing both for his company and the Great Northern, and greatly enhance the value of both properties. He does not deny the report.

FOUR MILLION DOLLARS.

Minnesota Gross Earnings of the Great Northern Railroad for Six Months.

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—The Great Northern road has filed its account of gross earnings for six months. Over the Great Northern line proper the earnings were $3,525,187.21, and over the Eastern Minnesota they were $80,573.82, the combined total, at 3 per cent and 1 per cent respectively, being $10,501.35. Over the Eastern Minnesota, from St. Paul to the Wisconsin state line, the earnings were $2,167.53, on which the tax amounted to $892.07, from which is subtracted according to the action taken by the railroad commission Oct. 1, 1890, the amount overpaid on the gross earnings for the first half of the year.

On the Wilmar & Sioux Falls road, from Wilmar to the South Dakota state line, the earnings were $12,027.43, on which the tax was $1,235.97. The gross earnings of the Chicago & Northwestern for 1890 were $13,265.25, for which the state treasurer received yesterday the amount of the 3 per cent tax, $45,400.35.

NEARLY EVEN FIGHT.

And Referee Mannix Declares the Mill a Draw.

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—Thirty-five hundred people attended the fight between the Newmarket theater last night between Kelly, of Boston, and Harris Martin, the Black Pearl, of Minneapolis, for $24, the gate record of the middleweight championship of the Northwest. The Boston boy was evidently the best fighter, but the referee, Referee Mannix, was received declaring the mill a draw.

Kelly broke his left hand in the first round by striking the African a swinging blow back of the right ear. Frank Glover, of Chicago, issued from the ring side a challenge to either of the contestants to fight to a finish at 108 pounds for $500 a side.

AN ABANDONING BANKER.

Paris, Feb. 11.—Victor Mace, the banker of this city, has abandoned the leaves an indebtedness amounting to $50,000 francs, and only 40,000 to pay his creditors. Mace opened a bank in Paris five years ago and attracted deposits by the offer of unusually high interest, which he appears to have paid out of the principal as it came in. At length he could keep up the pretense of solvency no longer, as many began to call for their deposits. In a letter to his creditors Mace intimates that he intends to commit suicide.

SATISFIED CITY SCHOOL DEBT.

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—The salaries of St. Paul school teachers now unpaid amount to $85,000. The city is two months and a half behind, but the committee on finance gives assurance that it can meet the indebtedness in about ten days if it can sell bonds. City Treasurer Reis advocates that the teachers urge upon the legislature the passing of an act whereby the city may issue its own bonds. By that means the teachers can be paid off regularly.

JACKSON'S WHEREABOUTS.

San Francisco, Feb. 11.—Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist, is in San Francisco training for the fight with Cope and has been here several weeks. There is no truth in the purported information with Jackson, sent from Vandalia, Ill., saying that he was tired of prize fighting and intended to quit it.

COOKERS' STRIKE.

Pennsylvania Mining and Railroad Interests Will Be Seriously Affected.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa., Feb. 11.—The strike of 15,000 miners and cooks in this region commenced last night and reveals every sign of a bitter fight. The employees of W. J. Rainey are the only men who have as yet refused to strike and their lives are in danger if they do not come out. Rainey's four plants are guarded by fifty Pinkerton detectives and a number of deputy sheriffs.

TILE LEGISLATURE.

Legislators Spend the Day at St. Cloud; Business Yesterday Afternoon at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—But little was done in the legislature this morning as the members were absent at St. Cloud to visit the reform school. Besides the members a lot of ladies and reporters went along in special cars furnished by the Great Northern road. They took dinner at the new reform school and examined its system carefully, expressing themselves as greatly pleased. Incidentally the members who went paid attention to the prison labor question involved in the cutting of stone at the St. Cloud granite quarries by convicts, in its relation to the labor, and the subject will be brought up in a few days.

In the senate yesterday afternoon, Senator Randall had a bill allowing the use of the ground on St. Paul island until a comparatively recent period occupied by a seal to be numbered for the purpose of sealing the seals from the driving and re-driving from all of the hunting grounds on this island, by the lessers during the present season. Mr. Randall's bill was introduced in the house yesterday afternoon. Mr. Randall's bill was introduced in the house yesterday afternoon. NEWSPAPER CONVENTION.

American Publishers' Convention in Fourth Annual Session.

New York, Feb. 11.—The fourth annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers' association opened at the Hoffman house today. The association was organized in Rochester in 1887, in response to a call issued by Mr. Butler and Mr. Brearly, ninety-six representatives of leading daily papers from thirty-six states being in attendance. It now has a membership of nearly 150 publications, and represents over two-thirds of the total newspaper circulation of this country scattered over the country from Maine to San Francisco and from Canada to the Gulf.

In objecting to a system of rates and methods of advertising, to keep close watch upon legislation which may in any way affect the newspaper business, to harmonize the relations between trades unions and the papers, and to foster a general feeling of closer sympathy and fellowship. The convention will be in session for three days.

RABBI ADLER'S WILL.

Characteristic of the Late Rabbi.

New York, Feb. 11.—Copies of the "ethical will" of the late Chief Rabbi Adler have just been received in this city. It is a well established Jewish custom among the most orthodox to leave such testaments in accordance with the Jewish law, and the late Chief Rabbi Adler prefaces his will. The will contains a simple exposition of some of the leading spiritual and ceremonial injunctions of the Jewish law, and in treating upon many of these subjects, the Rabbi expresses his own views on the subject.

AN ART SALE.

Valuable Collection of George Seney to Go Under the Hammer.

New York, Feb. 11.—Art connoisseurs crowded the assembly room of the Madison square garden building this morning attracted by the art collection belonging to George Seney, the banker, which is to go under the hammer. The collection is considered to be one of the finest and most valuable of modern masters ever gathered together in this country, and some idea may be formed of its size from the fact that the catalogue covers nearly 300 pages. The sale is absolute and will, it is expected, occupy nearly a week.

SPANIEL'S BONE USELESS.

Its Grafting Fails to Heal Little Johnnie Gethin's Sole Leg.

New York, Feb. 11.—The attempted lengthening of 13-year-old Johnny Gethin's leg by grafting upon it the bone of his spaniel, at the Charity hospital, has proven a failure. The bone was removed from the boy not long ago because even the flesh had failed to unite and the skin was sloughing off. The boy's leg is in the same condition as at first, but he has become pale and weak from the operation. Dr. A. M. Phelps, who attempted it, still refuses to make any statement as to the cause of the failure.

A Coming Wedding.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—A formal announcement has been made of the engagement of C. D. Lathrop, a wealthy tea merchant of this city, and Miss Edith Huntington, sister of Agnes Huntington, the noted operatic artist. The bride-to-be is a resident of New York city, and a pianist of considerable note. The wedding will take place during the spring.

A Cashier Missing.

Ayer, Mass., Feb. 11.—The First National bank of this city, the Middlesex Savings bank closed their doors today, and there are ugly rumors afloat concerning the funds of H. E. Spalding, cashier of both institutions, is missing. The books will be examined at once.

ST. LOUIS BRIDGE BILL.

It Passes the Senate Today Without Trouble.

BUT THE RUB COMES IN THE HOUSE.

Great Distress Among the Alaskan Natives; Some Sealeries Reports by Experts.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—In the senate today among the bills taken from the calendar and passed was a senate bill to authorize the construction of a bridge across the St. Louis river between Wisconsin and Minnesota.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Acting Secretary Nettleton of the treasury department has sent to the senate a number of reports from treasury agents on the seal rookeries on the Alaskan coast. The reports state that last October there were no sealing schooners in the vicinity of the islands at the time that the rookeries would be emptied for the season in two weeks. He referred to the necessity for supplies of fuel to the natives, predicting that the islands will be depopulated in a few years unless the government aids the natives, as the few seals they will be able to kill will not prevent them from suffering. He said that the schooner will follow the seals in Bering sea very early in the spring.

He says: "The large grass grown on the ground of St. Paul island until a comparatively recent period occupied by a seal to be numbered for the purpose of sealing the seals from the driving and re-driving from all of the hunting grounds on this island, by the lessers during the present season. Mr. Randall's bill was introduced in the house yesterday afternoon. Mr. Randall's bill was introduced in the house yesterday afternoon. Mr. Randall's bill was introduced in the house yesterday afternoon."

Mr. Goff, the agent in charge of the islands, also calls attention to the deplorable condition of the natives, and says that the recent arrivals at the islands have prevented the population there from becoming extinct. Pseudonia, he says, has been the greatest curse among the population. Mr. Goff paints a vivid picture of the indescribable killing of seals by pirates and bandits that the seal rookeries will be a thing of the past.

In conclusion he suggests that there be no killing of seals for their skins on these islands, nor in the waters of Bering sea, for an indefinite number of years to be named by the secretary of the treasury, letting the natives continue in replenishing the rookeries. Mr. Goff appeals to the government to take measures to protect the seals, and to the present because there is nothing for them to subsist on.

Police Out in Seattle Kill the Goose That Profits Realty Men.

SEATTLE, Wis., Feb. 11.—Since the killing of Prize Fighter Schaeffer, the newspapers have been "roasting" the local police force. The latter has retaliated by running in every one who dares to criticize its actions on the streets. Philip Hay, a prominent capitalist of Boston, who came here with $40,000 cash and credit from prominent Y. M. C. He was grabbed by the police and thrust into a vermin-ridden cell, where he remained until friends discovered his whereabouts.

ADAMSON PARDONED.

Minnesota Money Lender Set Free After One Year.

STILLWATER, Minn., Feb. 11.—Governor Merriam has signed the pardon of W. H. Adamson, the Minneapolis money lender. Adamson was sent to the penitentiary nearly a year ago under an eighteen months' sentence for forgery. His friends maintained that he was innocent. The fact that his business was yielding him a large income, and that the amount of the forgery was very small, argued in favor of his innocence, and a large number of signatures to the petition are said to have been obtained on that ground. Adamson has been released.

The Australian Wins.

Sydney, N. S. W., Feb. 11.—A fight for a purse of $500 took place here yesterday between Joe Goddard, the Australian pugilist and Joe Chynowski of San Francisco. At the end of the fourth round the referee declared Goddard victor. Sympathy was, of course, entirely with Goddard.

SHERMAN DEAD.

The Great War General Breathed His Last This Noon.

New York, Feb. 11.—Gen. Sherman was very low this morning with the attack of erysipelas that has lately troubled him. Members of the family were about his bedside all night and all the morning. If he lives through today the crisis will have passed, but his life is not expected. At about 1 o'clock this afternoon Gen. Sherman died.

William Tecumseh Sherman was born in Lancaster, Ohio, Feb. 8, 1820. He was the sixth of a family of eleven children, and at an early age was adopted by Thomas Ewing and attended school at Lancaster till 1838. In July of that year he was sent as cadet to West Point, where he was graduated in 1840, standing sixth in a class of forty-two. He was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Third artillery July 1, 1840, and sent to Florida. On Nov. 3d of the following year he was promoted to the first lieutenant and commanded a small detachment at Picoleta. In 1842 he was at Fort Morgan, Mobile Point, Ala., and later at Fort Moulton, Charleston harbor. During leave of absence in 1845 he began the study of law. In 1846 he was sent with troops around Cape Horn to California. Returning in 1846 he married Miss Ellen Boyle Ewing at Washington. Official promotions had been rapid, but in 1853 he visited California in a business capacity. In 1858 he was counsel-at-law in Lancaster, Kan., and the next year became superintendent of the state military academy at Alexandria, La., resigning to go into business in St. Louis. When the war broke out he was commissioned colonel of the Thirtieth infantry under Gen. Scott and had command of a brigade at Bull Run. On Aug. 18, 1861, he was made brigadier-general of volunteers as second in command to Gen. Robert Anderson in Kentucky and succeeded that officer March 10, 1862. From June 27, 1862, to March 3, 1863, he was in command of the military division of the Mississippi, embracing the departments of Ohio, Missouri, and Arkansas. On July 22, 1863, Sherman was promoted to be lieutenant-general, and when Grant became President in 1869, Sherman succeeded, with headquarters at Washington. Sherman was placed on the retired list with full pay in 1884 and has since lived at Washington, spending his time in traveling and enjoying the honors he has so well won.

A QUEER OUTCOME.

But Most Acceptable for Holders of Third National Bank Stock.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The stock holders of a bank which failed in this city in 1877 for nearly $1,000,000, yet whose stock is today quoted at $1.70, with no sellers, met at the Sherman house this morning. The institution holding such a unique position in the world of finance was known fourteen years ago as the Third National bank of Chicago. Its stockholders were told in 1877 that their stock was worthless and the failure complete. Yesterday they were told by Receiver Jackson that it had been offered $100,000 for two tracts of land near Chicago, and that the receiver was willing to accept the offer and make arrangements for getting some cash on the long deferred stock.

It is needless to say they are jubilant; many of the stockholders are poor people, reduced in circumstances, to whom this money will be wonderfully welcome.

VENEZUELA ALSO.

Another South American State Ready for Reciprocity on Blaine's Plan.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—It is understood here today that the President is ready for an announcement by proclamation of a treaty of reciprocity with Venezuela, and will make it in a day or two. This agreement will take effect at about the same time as the lately announced agreement with Brazil, the beginning of 1892.

While it is not an important treaty as with Brazil, the commerce both in and out of Venezuela is more varied and it is believed that a great future business can be worked up between the two countries. The United States now sells Venezuela but a small share of its imports.

KNOW OF NO PRISONERS.

Has no Reports of Americans in Siberian Mines.

DIGGING THEIR LIFE SLOWLY AWAY.

But One of Them Returns and Tells a Fearful Story of His Sufferings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The state department has not as yet received any information of the imprisonment of Americans in Russian coal mines, and no action is contemplated in the absence of official information on the subject. This statement was made in answer to an article published in the Boston Herald giving the story of the imprisonment for three years of Capt. Joseph W. Morris in an East Siberia coal mine. The Herald states that Capt. Morris was captain of the schooner Helena, which sailed from Yokohama April 11, 1883, on a cruise for walrus. They captured walrus in Russian territory, and the schooner was seized by a Russian gunboat. The schooner and crew were taken to Vladivostok, where they were tried and convicted of violating the seal and fishing laws. There was no American consul at the port and they had no counsel.

They were condemned to imprisonment in a coal mine for three years. They were sent into different parts of the mine and were obliged to send up ten tons of coal per day for the first year and six tons per day for the other years. If the stated amount of coal did not come up no rations would be given them. Capt. Morris was fastened to a Pole, the chain leading to the mine shaft, but no one came to release him from the body. At the end of fifteen days the captain cut the Pole's body in two with his shovel and got it upon a load of coal. A hammer and chisel were then sent down to him with which to cut off the chain. When Morris came out he found that C. F. Crocker, of Searsport, Me., one of his crew, had just been released. Together they walked 150 miles to Vladivostok, the Russians refusing them transportation. They were completely ragged, and sore from the use of vermin. An American vessel took them to Nagasaki, where the United States consul provided them with clothes, and they took their first hot bath in three years. The consul furnished them with transportation to Yokohama, whence they went to San Francisco. Morris finally reached Boston, his native place, last November, where he has since been employed by a street railway company.

Last Friday he left the house of friends in West Newton to come to Boston, and since that time he has been missing. Of his crew three were Americans and twenty-two Japanese. Of the Americans besides Crocker, Capt. Morris has heard of but one living out his term of imprisonment, that being a sailor who was captured Sept. 6, 1883.

TWO GOOD BILLS.

And it is Hoped Both May be Passed and Become Law.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The house committee on commerce has ordered favorable reports on bills providing for the inspection of vessels carrying export cattle from the United States to foreign countries; also one providing that no raft towed between the waters of the great lakes shall be more than sixty-five feet in width.

The necessity of both measures is evident. The first is insisted on by Mr. Pillsbury, the "sailor's friend," of England, on the grounds that many cattle vessels are overloaded and lost on purpose to obtain insurance. The matter of too large rafts in the connecting links of the great lakes has long been a nuisance to navigators and vessel men.

AGAINST FREE COINAGE.

Business Bodies of the United States Protest Against It.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—George E. Laigter and E. A. Hitchcock, representing merchants and manufacturers of St. Louis opposed to free coinage, addressed the house committee on coinage, weights and measures today in opposition to the senate free coinage bill. Mr. Wickham laid before the committee a resolution of the Bankers' association of Buffalo, N. Y., protesting the passage of a free coinage bill. This evening the committee will hear a delegation from Pennsylvania and a delegation appointed by the New York chamber of commerce on the silver question.

Pleasant Washington Wedding.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—W. F. Wharton, assistant secretary of state, and Miss Susan Lay, were quietly married at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Hobson, 1742 N. street, last evening. Mr. and Mrs. Wharton left for the North to be absent ten days. Only the immediate friends of the couple were present at the wedding. Mr. Wharton is a daughter of Col. Richard Lay, United States consul general to Ottawa, and is a niece of Mrs. Vice-President Morton.

Revenue Expenses.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The acting secretary of the treasury sent to the house estimates of expenses for collecting the revenue from customs for the coming fiscal year showing the number of employees and the salaries required for each collection district. The expenses of the work are estimated at $7,395,292.

Strip to be Opened.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Feb. 11.—Mr. Cowles, of Kansas City, has returned from a visit to Washington. He reports that he heard directly from President Harrison that the Cherokee outlet would be thrown open for settlement in the spring. Col. A. A. Newman, of this city, is in receipt of news to the same effect.

A Napoleon of Finance.

WASHINGTON, Del., Feb. 11.—The shortage of J. Eldridge Pierce, the second secretary of the City Loan association, will amount to fully $30,000 instead of $47,561, as reported this morning.

DULUTH TO THE SEA.

English papers publish a telegram from Ottawa reporting a project for deepening the St. Lawrence canal so as to allow a vessel of 25 feet draught to sail or steam into Lake Ontario, adding that "the minister of the marine lately said that he hoped soon to see Toronto a seaport, which is interpreted to mean that the Dominion government considers the project at least feasible."

In 1850 the limiting depth of navigation, in the St. Lawrence, below Montreal, was 11 feet; at the close of 1888 a channel, with a minimum width of 300 feet and 27½ to 30 feet deep, had been dredged, a work which has involved dredging 15½ million yards of material since 1875 at a cost of about $3,000,000, besides the expenditures in the harbor of Montreal. The navigable depths obtained in the course of this improvement have gradually increased from 11 feet in 1850 to 20 feet in 1885, 25 feet in 1882 and 27½ feet in 1888.

The distance from Montreal to the foot of Lake Ontario is 119 miles, of which forty-three and five-eighths miles is canal navigation. This is arranged as follows, commencing at Montreal with the Lachine canal:

Name of canal.	Length in miles.	River miles.
Lachine.....	11.25	11.25
Beauharnois.....	11.25	11.25
Corwall.....	11.25	11.25
Furness.....	11.25	11.25
Rapide Plat.....	11.25	11.25
Galop.....	11.25	11.25
Total.....	68.50	68.50

The locks on the Lachine canal, like those on the Welland, are 270 by 45, for vessels drawing 14 feet of water. The locks on all the rest of the canals are 200 by 45 with 9 feet of water as a maximum, and contracts for the enlargement of two or more of the canals above the Lachine to the capacity of that canal have been lately let; so that the determination, if it has been arrived at, to deepen the waterway to twenty-five feet, which implies widening and lengthening all of the locks as well as deepening them, must have been adopted within a month or two.

The full force of the figures here presented, and of the evident decision of the Canadian government to further deepen and enlarge these canals, can be better understood when one recollects that the Welland canal is now being enlarged and the Sault is under contract on the American side for a larger canal and on the Canadian for a new large canal. With the canals above mentioned deepened to permit navigating vessels to pass them, Duluth will be put on the Atlantic seaboard, and will ship direct to Europe. It will not be seven years, perhaps not five, when this work will be so far advanced as to allow the head of Lake Superior to shake hands with Liverpool and Southampton.

THE SILVER SWINDLE.

A number of Duluth real estate men, who believe the agitation on the question of silver coinage and the consequent fear of unlimited coinage has more than any other thing caused the depression in realty and the continuance of extreme conservatism in financial circles, have asked THE HERALD to urge Duluthians to aid in every way the opposition to silver. They suggest that Duluth people make it a duty to address letters to congressmen known to them urging adverse votes on free silver. Doubtless there are a great many members of the house of representatives who have personal friends in Duluth; the population of this city is so cosmopolitan that such must be, and is, the case. Personal letters, therefore, from here would have weight.

But THE HERALD has not the slightest idea that the house needs any such reminder of its plain duty in the premises. The silver bill will not pass. The late "downing" of the silver amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill shows this. The vote measured the strength of the silver men. In sustaining the ruling of the chair which declared the amendment out of order, a majority registered itself as opposed to the light-weight dollar. This ought to settle the question so far as the present congress is concerned. The silver men, however, are quite capable of maintaining the agitation. It will be urged that their defeat the other day was on an indirect issue, and one in which the precedents of the house were against them. But their campaign has been based on bluster and exaggeration of their strength, not only in congress, but as respects the popular support behind them.

Mr. Bland who may be regarded as the representative silver crank, has given his case away and has withdrawn from the meeting of the coinage committee, declaring that the hearings accorded to the business interests which oppose silver had smothered the free silver bill. This is the exact truth. The silver swindle has perished.

The census bureau will soon issue a bulletin upon the population of Southern Alaska, between the 55th and 60th parallels, or what may be termed the tourist's Alaska. The superficial area of the district is estimated at about 23,000 square miles (about that of Maine), but the navigable waterways between its islands and shores have an aggregate length of 3000 miles. Nearly all of the settlements, with the exception of Juneau, Chitka, and a few small mining and fishing camps, are located on islands. Full population returns will show about 28,000. Of the population as far as is ascertained 4101 are white, 82 black, 1568 mixed, 11,735 native and 2125 Chinese. The number of children of school age in this district is 7636 and the average daily attendance at school is 32.

This is a growing country; and the New York Tribune Almanac for 1891, now just out, shows that old standard and political reference and text-book, is growing up with the country, as it ought to. The almanac contains all things a man wants to refer to of a political, financial and statistical character, and a hundred things besides. The Tribune has excelled itself in this almanac. The old price of twenty-five cents a copy is retained, in spite of increase of size. No one ever charged the Tribune Almanac with a partisan bias. It aims to give just what the people want to know and refer to, with regard to politics, finance, trade, elections, etc., and to give them just as they are, impartially and accurately.

A junior in the state university discusses in the columns of the college monthly the question, "Shall college students become journalists?" He thinks not because, forsooth, journalists are not respectable. The Herald doesn't know very much about journalists; there are a few of them on a local sheet, but the representatives of the press of Duluth is composed for the most part of newspaper men, and these college students very seldom become.

There is a brief paragraph that has an immense popularity with democratic journals. It is to the effect that "the Cambria Iron company has notified its 5000 workers that, commencing Feb. 1, their wages will be reduced 10 per cent." Almost every democratic journal exclaims: "This is how the McKinley bill raises wages." This company is engaged in the manufacture of steel rails, on which the McKinley law reduced the duty more than 20 per cent.

Alderman Mannheim states that THE HERALD's report of the late secret council meeting was incorrect in that it stated that he, after conference with Alderman Davis, agreed to 4 per cent orders to pay for the electric light plant, then about to be purchased. This correction is cheerfully made.

A Lay of Today.

"Yes, Alice," she murmured; "yes, a thousand times yes, if your lot is in P. S.—Foreign or domestic real estate men who desire to insert their business cards in the above blank will please apply early and avoid the rush.

CURRENT COLLEGE NOTES.

The following, from President Eliot's annual report, gives some idea of the religious influences at work at Harvard: "For the year 1890-91 the board of preachers is composed of one unitarian, two episcopalians, one congregationalist and one presbyterian. Only two out of the preachers are graduates of the university. The interest of the students and of the community about the university in the chapel services increases from year to year." President Eliot will be in Minneapolis Saturday and Harvard men, who are expected to attend a reception in his honor that evening.

Walter B. Peet, who has coached the Columbia club for so many years, has retired, and Chase H. Mellon, '92, school of law, has been elected to take his place. Mr. Mellon is a graduate of Oxford university, where he studied the Brahmanism. At present he is ill and Capt. McCallie is coaching both the varsity and freshman candidates for the crew.

The increase of revenues from various sources has emboldened the corporation of Harvard university to raise the salaries of fifteen professors and the librarian from $1000 to $1500 a year and the salary of four law professors from $500 to $800 a year. At the same time they passed a standing vote which fixed the salary of an assistant professor in his second term at $800 a year instead of $500. For college professors this is the first increase in the regular salary since 1880. Some of the law professors made simultaneously in the rates of compensation to instructors.

The authorities of Amherst have taken a practical way of solving the question "How much does it cost to get an education at Amherst?" by asking the students themselves to report on their expenses of the last college year. Blanks were given out and the returns are to be entirely confidential.

A. A. Stagg, the famous pitcher, was in New Haven a few days ago to see the candidates for the baseball nine begin training. He said that the "Yankees" to "bustle" this year to keep that precious pennant, as Princeton and Harvard will both have the best nine they have had for years. Stagg is formerly a nine at the Christian Workers school, where he has charge of athletics.

Whoever has seen the massive structure of the D. K. E. society in New Haven, with its windowless walls and the immense palaces on its iron door, will appreciate the humor of the next sign. "Please enter without knocking," which was found to adorn it a few mornings ago.

The musical club of Beloit college, Wisconsin, have been considering the feasibility of taking a special Pullman car for their coming spring concert tour. The management have had many first-class applications for dates from various cities where Beloit college concerts have already been given.

Professor Payne's astronomical work at Carleton college, Minnesota, is year by year attracting more attention to that able astronomer and to the college he represents. Carleton has the finest instrument for work in the heavens of any Western institution, and the earnest, careful, loving service of Professor Payne and his associates for many years is meeting the reward it deserves. The publications of Carleton observatory are looked on all over the world as standard and its monthly "Starlight Magazine" is the leading journal of astronomy of America. Minnesota has good cause to be proud of the work of this college in this line of scientific research.

Tariff Pictures.

New York Press: Three years is a short time, and yet see what this tariff-ridden country did in one direction during that period:

The exports of all domestic manufactures of iron and steel increased $14,865,087 in value in 1889 to $23,172,314 in value in 1890, or 60 per cent.

A Municipal Lighting Fable.

Once upon a time there dwelt for many years together W. W. Fox and an Ass. One day there came a separation and the Wolf and the Fox married. At the end of the year the Ass concluded to follow the example of his former companions and called them in for advice.

"How much does it cost you to live?" asked the Ass.

"Fifty bushels of grain," quoth the Wolf.

"Ten bushels," said the Fox, "and I live as good as my brother, the Wolf, does."

"Be it so," said the Ass; "I'll follow your advice," and he straightway went out and selected his own sheep.

The other Asses denounced the Wolf as a speedier thief and a bad man.

Moral: The Wolf had one to house-keeping and had paid for his own food and fuel. The Fox had lived with his father-in-law.

Traveling Churches.

The millionaire magnates, the opera singers, the great showmen, all have their "private cars," and now comes the church, building church on wheels which run to and fro in the earth diffusing religious intelligence. Bishop Walker, of the episcopal church of North Dakota, was the first to build a car fitted with pulpit, organ and pews, and the Minnesota baptists are now building one for their Sunday school missionary, "Uncle Boston" Smith. Does it seem a little strange that the first church car should be built in the wild Northwest? Well, it is just a way the Northwest has of getting to the front.

Just so with her railroads, always entering, seeking the comfort of their patrons, guaranteeing speed and safety at the same time. Among these "The Burlington" stands easily at the front in immense mileage number of important places reached and elegance of equipment. For tickets, time tables, etc., call on any agent of this or connecting lines, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. & N. E. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

COVER THE RIGHT-OF-WAY.

Duluth & Winnipeg Contractors Have a Great Force.

AN ADDITION TO DULUTH'S SYSTEM.

The Duluth & Pierre Road to be Pushed to the Hills at Once.

Donald Grant, the Duluth & Winnipeg contractor, was in the city today. He said he had men and teams enough ready at the present time to cover the right of way from Clouet to Duluth.

"We are only waiting for the settlement of the right of way, which we expect to be done in short order. All the necessary supplies and camp outfits have been purchased. The question of the right of way ought to be fixed up this week. It will be a surprising sight to see how quick the dirt will be flying after the right of way is fixed up."

The bonds of the Duluth, Pierre & Black Hills road have been sold by St. Paul financial agent to a syndicate of capitalists who have agreed to have the road running next fall a distance of 120 miles from its present terminus at Duluth along the route Aberdeen, Pierre and the rest have the grading now nearly done and will have it entirely completed soon. The road will be a feeder of the Northern Pacific, crossing several Chicago systems, and will be of value to this city not only in that way but as giving a direct southwestern outlet to Duluth for the Burlington & Missouri River. The bonds are guaranteed by the Northern Pacific.

At the annual meeting in Pierre, S.D., the directors passed upon work already done and decided upon plans for completing the grade from Faulkton to Pierre next season. As soon as the weather will permit after April 1 engineers will be put in the field to cross section and grading will be resumed. The Northern Pacific company is anxious that the grading shall be commenced as early as possible and the line may be bridged and ironed. The ties and rails are now being purchased for the line. In this connection it is noted that the latest Northern Pacific maps show this extension from Duluth to Pierre and from Pierre to the Black Hills, which is something of an indication as to who is behind the building of this line. It is believed that there is an arrangement between the Northern Pacific and the Burlington to continue the line from Pierre to connect with the Burlington in the hills, giving the Northern Pacific an outlet to Denver and the Burlington an outlet to Duluth.

SUING TIMBER THIEVES.

The Government to Sue Contractors for Despoiling Indian Timber Lands.

J. G. Monahan, special United States timber agent, is looking up alleged trespass on Indian lands in Jackson county, Wis. Wholesale cutting of standing timber on the Indians' homesteads has been going on for the last ten years. The land is about stripped of all timber of any value, which is the most serious wrong, as the soil is light. The timber was usually the inducement that prompted the Indian to homestead. He found a ready market for his timber and a ready market for his timber. The point now raised is that in the past several years ago grading of the line from Duluth to Pierre has been going on, and the Indians have been passing the line under the expiration of the tax exemption period. Though the contractors and the Indians were paid for the same, the government will hold that the Indians had no right to dispose of their land and will probably commence action for trespass.

LONG THREATENS.

The Second Ward Alderman Will Get Out an Injunction if Scolded.

It looks now as if an attempt would be made to get a measure through the council authorizing the purchase of the Hartman electric light plant before the advent of the new councilmen. If the measure is passed the mayor will veto it. There are, however, about eleven men who will vote for the passage of the measure. Consequently the mayor can delay the matter but five days when it will be passed over his head. If an attempt is made to pass the measure Alderman Long threatens to get out injunction proceedings to stop it.

AN ENGLISH OPINION.

Noted English Expert Writes of Specimens of Vermilion Ore.

J. M. Powers, of the firm of Fowler & Powers, the largest firm of consulting and mining engineers in London, writes Major T. B. Hoover, of this city, as follows:

"Many thanks for your letter which reaches me today. The cuttings you enclose are interesting, as showing the growth and development of the Vermilion range, for which there is undoubtedly a very fine future. I had not thought it possible that the financial trouble would have extended to you in Duluth. Here it sits on us like a nightmare and has practically put a stop to all business dealings. However, a change must come before long."

ANOTHER CANDY FACTORY.

A Third Large Candy Factory is Started in Duluth.

Duluthians possessed of the sweet tooth will be glad to learn that another candy factory has been started in Duluth for the manufacture of nearly everything in the regular candy line. James W. Bruner of Indianapolis, is the proprietor of the factory which is located under the St. Louis hotel. The factory opened its business yesterday and turned out the first batch of home-made candy. Candies will be made for the wholesale and retail trade by Mr. Bruner. This is the third candy factory in the city, those now here doing a large business.

Where is the Scavenger?

The horses and mules that were burned to death in Contractor Coglin's barn at Onondaga street, Duluth, have never been removed, and as the fire still smolders the stench is something awful, and residents are justified in making a kick, and say that if it is not looked after at once they will be compelled to close the school there. Whoever owned this stock should be compelled to remove it and the board of health has the power to make him do so, instead of allowing it to remain there and become a breeder of disease.

TODAY'S FIRE.

A Damaging Fire on West Michigan Street This Morning.

At 10:15 o'clock this morning an alarm was turned in at box 32, which called the department to a fire at 1704 West Superior street. The building is owned by Freeman Keen, of Onondaga, and is badly damaged. Partly insured. It was occupied in the upper story by R. C. Jones as a dwelling, and the lower story was occupied by a batchelor's hall. Mr. Ellerman is sick at the hospital, and is therefore unable to protect his interests, and the damage from water and breakage is great.

CRAP SHOOTERS.

Several of Them are Taken in Tow by the City Police.

Last evening Chief McCaude and Detective Hayden, accompanied by other officials, raided a gambling establishment in the rear of a barber shop at 415 West Superior street. The proprietor is one W. F. Green, a colored man. Several were present and an exciting time ensued. As soon as the inmates became aware of the presence of officers they blew out the lights and attempted to make their escape. During the hubbub a negro named Ned Warner was shot in the leg. Ten of the fraternity were captured and conveyed to head quarters.

A Sudden Appearance.

Said Boiler Engineer Tomlin, of Duluth, speaks of the growth of population in the Western part of the state:

"The country around Hallowell is now thickly settled by prosperous farmers, and six years ago, when I first visited the place, the surrounding country was inhabited principally by game. Bears were especially numerous, and many were the adventures with these animals met with by travelers who journeyed through the woods on horseback. I had a friend who came through the country that way. One day he was riding through the brush when the pony suddenly stopped. My friend went right on over the animal's head and landed in the brush some distance ahead. He looked up and found himself lying directly in front of two bears. The animals were gazing in evident astonishment upon the stranger. My friend crawled back to the path as quietly as possible, caught his pony and rode around."

LONDON'S LABOR EXPOSITION.

The Whole World Will be Invited to Participate.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—London is to have a World's Labor exposition in the fall of the present year, and invitations to participate addressed to the various trades unions of the United States will be mailed in a few days. The movement is under the auspices of over two hundred trade and co-operative societies with the support and sympathy of the bishop of Bedford and a number of other ecclesiastics. A site of sixteen acres situated at Shepherds' Bush, near Uxbridge road railway station has been secured, and a building to cover six acres of ground is to be at once erected. The different departments will show men and women of various industries engaged in actual work.

The invitations to be sent to trades unions in the United States and the continent will say that the exhibition will be on a strictly trades union basis, and during the convention there will be efforts to demonstrate the fact, that while all produce is manufactured by the workers, the world is still ignorant of their struggles and the starvation wages paid by the manufacturers for the exhibited goods.

Visited the Pope. Duke of Cambridge Called on His Holiness Recently.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The announcement of the fact by the Official Gazette that the duke of Cambridge had an audience with the pope a few days ago has created something of a sensation in established church circles, as it is the first time in many years that any connection of the English royal family has paid an official visit to the Vatican. From a Rome dispatch it appears that the duke, who was accompanied by Col. FitzGeorge, Col. Lane and Christopher Sykes, a member of the house of commons, was received with royal honors.

The conversation between the pope and the visitor, which lasted over two hours, was of the most cordial character, his holiness making special inquiries as to the state of health of the queen and the members of the royal family and regarding the general condition of affairs in England. On leaving the Vatican his royal highness called upon Cardinal Rampolla, the pontifical secretary of state, and on the following morning received a return visit from the cardinal.

LONDON COMPS DISSATISFIED. Joint Conference With Employers to Deny the Struggle.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—A strike of all the compositors employed at the various printing offices of this city is threatened. Some months ago the London Society of Compositors presented a memorial to the employers for an increase in the rates of pay, demanding a minimum of $10 per week and of eight and twelve cents per hour for overtime.

The employers on Saturday returned a reply to the memorial in which they refused to pay a higher minimum rate of $9 per week, with six cents and nine cents per hour for extra overtime.

Today resolutions were passed by the various chapels notifying the employers that they propose to strictly adhere to the terms of the memorial on the ground that their demands were just and moderate. A joint conference of the journeymen and employers will be held in a few days for the purpose of endeavoring to reach an amicable agreement.

ACTIVE WORK BEGUN. Excavating for World's Fair Buildings in Active Operation.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The work of dredging the ground in Jackson park preparatory to laying the foundations of the World's fair buildings has commenced. A vast amount of machinery will be required in the operation, and it has been found necessary to bring much of it from Milwaukee and other points. Work on the lagoons will also be begun at the same time. It has been found necessary to lay a line of railroad tracks from the south end of the park toward the center for the transportation of the dirt excavated. There are altogether over 1,000,000 cubic yards of earth to be removed and it will require a month or two of fair weather in order to complete the task.

WORLD OF COMMERCE.

Cash Wheat and Futures on the Duluth Market.

MONEY MARKETS IN THE EAST.

Leading Speculative Commodities in All the Leading Markets of the World.

The market ruled very dull here today, opening unchanged from yesterday's closing figures. There was little disposition to buy here and the market proved a waiting and a halting one all day. Early in the day New York reported a strong feeling, with little wheat for sale. Bradstreet's report was not as bullish as was expected. Minneapolis reported heavier receipts at country elevators. There were but few trades made here and prices ruled declining. The close was off 1/2c all around from yesterday's figures, with the exception of May No. 1 northern, which closed at yesterday's figures.

Cash wheat in our lots on track sold early at 93 1/2c for No. 1 northern. No other grade sold for milling purposes. Cash wheat in store closed without transactions at 94 1/2c, 91 1/2c and 87 1/2c. February wheat closed without sales at 95c and 91 1/2c.

Although there was but very little business done in the May future, the prices ruled fairly firm, No. 1 hard selling at 99 1/2c and No. 1 northern at 94 1/2c. The close was firm with bidders at 94 1/2c and 90 1/2c. The whole close may be said to be fairly steady and a good degree of firmness.

The closing prices were:

	Cash	Feb.	May
No. 1 hard	93 1/2	95	99 1/2
No. 1 northern	94 1/2	91 1/2	94 1/2
No. 2 northern	87 1/2	87 1/2	90 1/2

Cars on track: Wheat, 93; last year, 33. Receipts: Wheat, 33,351 bu. Shipments: Wheat, 2894. Inspection: Cars No. 1 hard 7; No. 1 northern, 11; no grade, 1; No. 1 white winter, 1; total, 20.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Close of an Excellent Year of one of Duluth's Church Societies.

At the annual meeting of the Christian church last night excellent reports were made by all societies connected with it, as well as by the church itself.

The Sunday school has 121 members, received $104 and disbursed $90 during the year. The treasurer's report showed receipts of $1106.64 and disbursements $1123.49, leaving $18.75 due. The receipts and expenditures foot up to $170, 192. The trustees' report showed the church property to be in good shape, with a great many improvements carried out during the year.

The ladies had a discussion on the way in which the work of the Ladies Aid society should be carried on in the future, the present plan of division not suiting some. It was decided to drop the "Three division" plan.

P. L. Young was made trustee in place of A. L. Witmer, who has gone East. John Patterson was re-elected clerk, and the deacons were re-elected.

The showing made was everywhere excellent, especially considering the fact that for much of the year the church has been pastorless.

A FRAUDULENT SUIT. That Against the Highland Improvement Company Quickly Decided.

Considerable space has been given in The Herald's contemporaries to a suit over the title to a valuable lot of property of the Highland Improvement company. The Herald yesterday characterized the suit as one of the same class as have been before the courts in this city.

The long and tedious testimony, which this paper has no time to print, was finished and the judge charged the jury this morning. His charge was very strongly in favor of the Highland Improvement company, the present owner, and a verdict was made accordingly.

It is one of the evils of the present law that anybody with any trumped up claim can make trouble and bring suit.

CHALK EXAMINES. Diver Chalk is at Work Today on the Intake Pipe.

Michael Chalk is investigating the condition of the intake pipe of the city water works again this afternoon. He will not be able to make much progress on account of the lack of light. The ice is strong enough to hold up the instruments.

Superintendent Craig, of the Duluth Gas and Water company, received a letter today from E. W. Smith, of Beloit college, who will be here Friday and Saturday to get samples of Duluth water for microscopical and chemical analysis. He will represent the gas and water company as an expert in case of litigation.

A ROW OVER HAY. The Alleged Ghost Dance by Fond du Lac Indians a Canard.

It was reported this morning that the Fond du Lac Indians were making trouble near the town of Independence, westerly from Duluth in St. Louis county. A deputy sheriff returned from there today who states that a ray stack, concerning the ownership of which there was trouble between a farmer and the Indian, was burned by the latter, but that no other trouble had occurred.

Ironton Machinery Ready for Shipment. Frank Atkins, manager of the Ironton Steel and Tin company, returned today from Leinster, Ohio. He states that the machinery for the plant is now being loaded for shipment together with the iron of the main building.

Many Herring Fishers. Fishers for herring are having excellent luck just beyond the breakwater. The hooks are baited and let down through the ice.

The A. O. U. W. Hop. The Ancient Order of United Workmen Fidelity lodge gave a hop last night at the St. Louis hotel.

To the Public. As to the article which appeared in this morning's Tribune, charging Mr. Williams, of Williams & Schlappi, of being a swindler, I wish to explain it more plainly to the public. The facts of the case are that on Jan. 20 I received a check from a resident of St. Paul, for $100, payable to John Brose, and in a few days receiving the check to which I had deposited back on account of its not being honored and therefore got left in a bad place for which I have been wrongfully accused of swindling.

Stanley Talks on African Trips and His American Journey.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 11.—An Associated Press reporter had a brief interview today with Henry M. Stanley.

"What will you do at the conclusion of your American lecture tour?" was asked.

"The first thing I will do," replied the explorer, "will be to take my family home to England, and then—well, I don't know, any more than you do, what will happen then."

"My trips to Africa have not generally been made on my own account. They have usually been planned either by some newspaper or by some of my friends. It has been through no ambition or desire of my own that I have scoured Africa. Twice I was sent. The third time I was asked to go by the king of the Belgians, and the fourth time my friends asked me to go. Having undertaken to explore the continent, my desire was to do it thoroughly. Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well, the best scholar in the school, and that seems to have somewhat raised a prejudice.

"One thing is certain: I will not return to Africa until I am sent back. I will not go of my own volition."

"We are now on our way to California. Our lecture tour will conclude April 8. I will have a week to myself in New York and will then sail for London. Mr. Stanley enjoys her trip through this country very much. She has been treated royally and she has made numerous friends everywhere. It has been quite a strain upon her to receive so much attention, and it is gratifying to me that she has been able to respond amiably."

OBJECTS TO HEBREWS. Mr. Sheahan Does Not Want Them in a Public School.

New York, Feb. 11.—The objection on the part of Sculptor Dennis Sheahan of Washington Heights to the admission of 200 boys of the Hebrew Sheltering Guardian society to new public school No. 46 has furnished a subject for much discussion. He claims that the school trustees have no right to admit the boys because the institution is exempt from taxation and the children crowd out those of the taxpayers. He believes a bad effect is created by these children parading to school in uniform, and also states that the boys are known to be bad. Notwithstanding that, no by-law in the institution has been committed for crime nor is one a reformatory graduate.

These Hebrews are orphans or children of poor parents. If poverty is a crime, then they are guilty. The institution receives no state aid save the remission of taxes. Some of the boys are the best scholars in the school, and that seems to have somewhat raised a prejudice.

THE OTHER WAY. Liquor Legislation Looked at From the Reverse Side.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 11.—There is great turmoil among the whisky men of this place and the liquor lobby is growing strong. It is all because of a bill that may soon be introduced in the legislature on the liquor question, and which is a decided change in the established order.

The bill to be introduced proposes to equally reverse the present liquor law and license system. It considers every county a prohibition district until it is proved otherwise by vote. It will compel saloon men to petition for special county elections to vote upon the question of license if they desire permission to sell liquors in the several counties.

TEN LIVES LOST. An Ocean Steamer Topples Over on a Couple of Tugs.

New York, Feb. 11.—It is reported that a large iron steamer, while being towed from tide water to the docks at Jersey City, toppled over on the tugs beside her and sunk them. Ten lives are lost.
